Dearest Rich, I am not going to wish you
first of all in the future
good luck in the future
because I know you'll succeed anyway. You are one of the dearest and most successful people I've ever met you and one of the few people I'll miss from High School! I hope you are successful with 3 children. I'll be married again I, II, and the third. I'll be married again in a bar somewhere listening to the Piano Man.
Love always,
Your friend
Rij

Dear Rich -
Hiya. I would sign near my picture but I think after 12 years of school together, you would know what I look like. I would like to take this opportunity (wow, pumped up) to say that I wish you all the best. I'm sure you will succeed.
Good luck!
Keep in touch
Melissa
P.S. Say hi to Sarah

Lasting Impressions

The faces are numerous, but the expressions are unique.

Each individual has his own dreams, his own future. But this short period of school life has left a long lasting impression on each and every person.

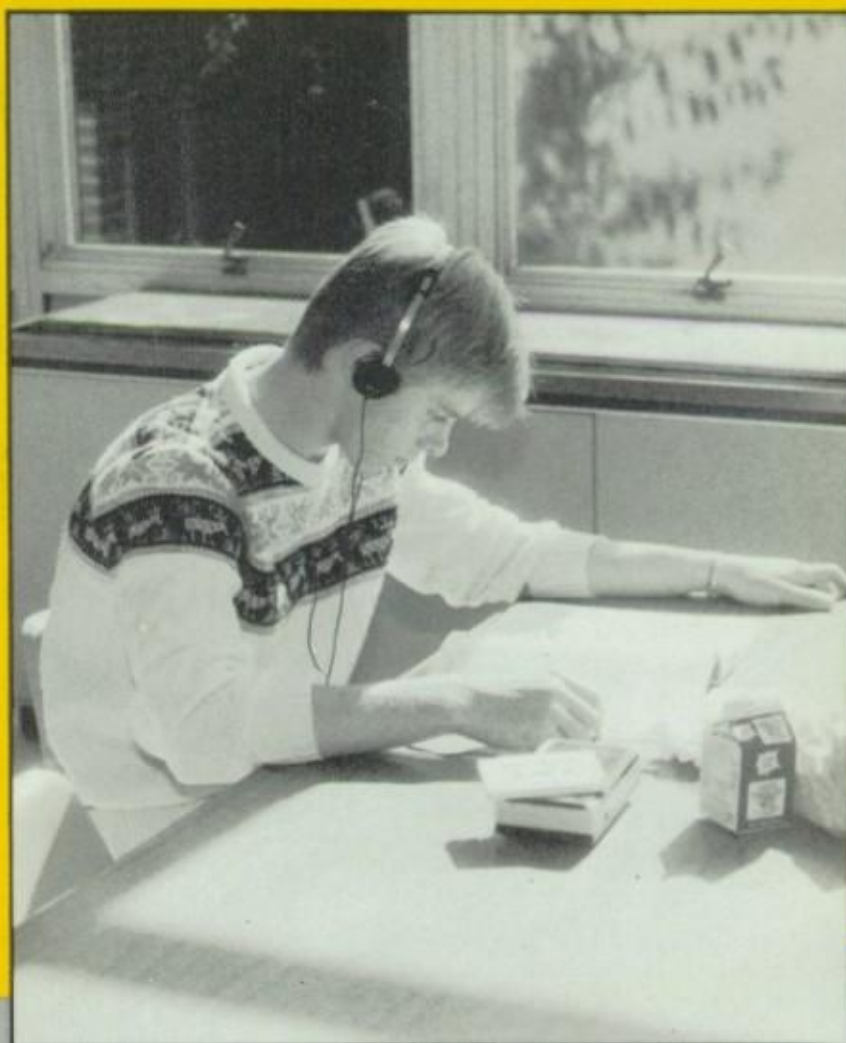

The group as a body will long be remembered by more than just a pair of numbers. The memories have been etched to withstand the wear of a lifetime.

B.

A. Cathy Niland enjoys the fall.

B. Rich Prestegaard displays true South spirit at the Special Olympics run.

C. Carl Brandt shows that studying is not all hard work.

D. Tricia Michie, Becca Cohen, Stephanie Corona, and Sharon Gafney share a special kind of friendship.

E. Chris Murphy takes a break from studying.

F. South students love to get in a picture.

Friends Forever

No matter where we go after graduation we keep in our hearts the special memory of the friends we made in high school. They are the people who make us smile after a day that just didn't go right. They help pick up our books when we drop them in the mud and have taken extra careful notes when we've been absent.

It seems hard to imagine a time when we won't see our friends every day, but regardless of where they are, they'll always be just a phone call away.

A.

B.

C.

D.

E.

A. Steve Rosenbaum and Michelle Cutone know the best way to study is with a friend.

B. Mike Wedlick, Brendan Downey, Dan Young and Frank Urzi having a good time.

Neverending Dreams

A.

B.

C.

During high school many dreams are realized, what we want to be, who we want to become . . . . Other dreams are fulfilled, being an athlete, leading a club, going to the prom . . .

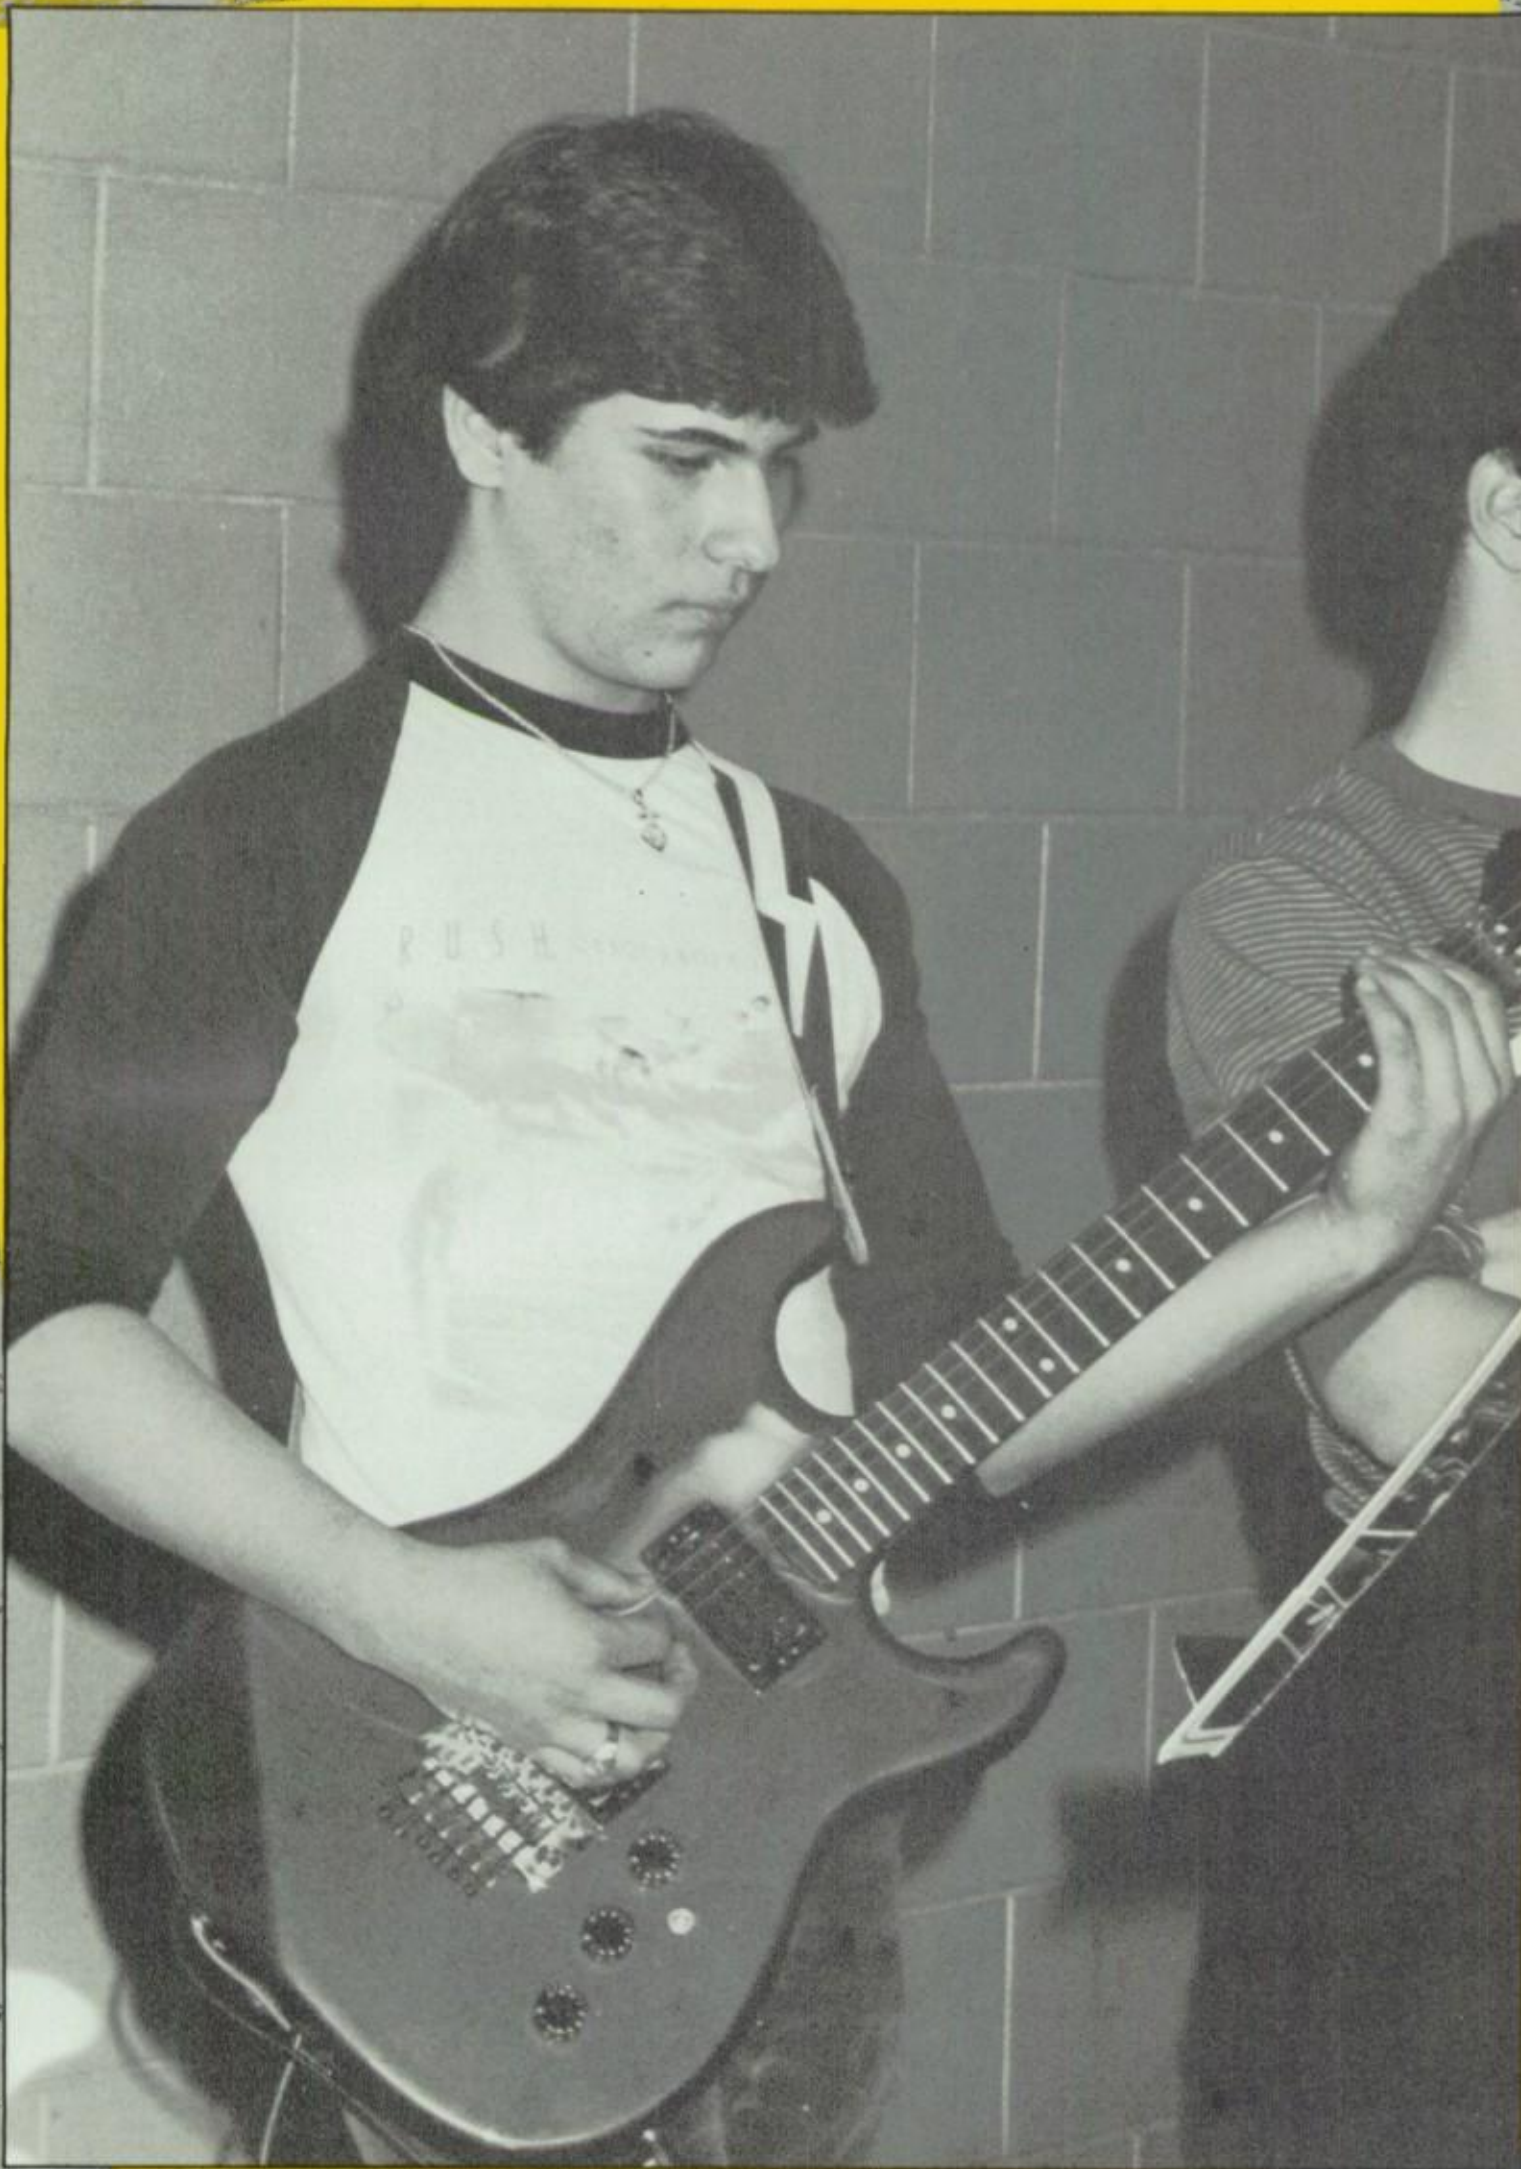

Our hopes and goals become an important part of our lives. Countless options and possibilities are opened to us. Clichéd as it is, our lives are just beginning and our dreams are neverending.

D.

Rich-
congratulations
It was great having classes with you. You are a very sweet person + a good friend. Thank-you for helping me out in math. Good luck always in everything you share

B. Steve Mandel and Jeff Levine do their homework during lunch.

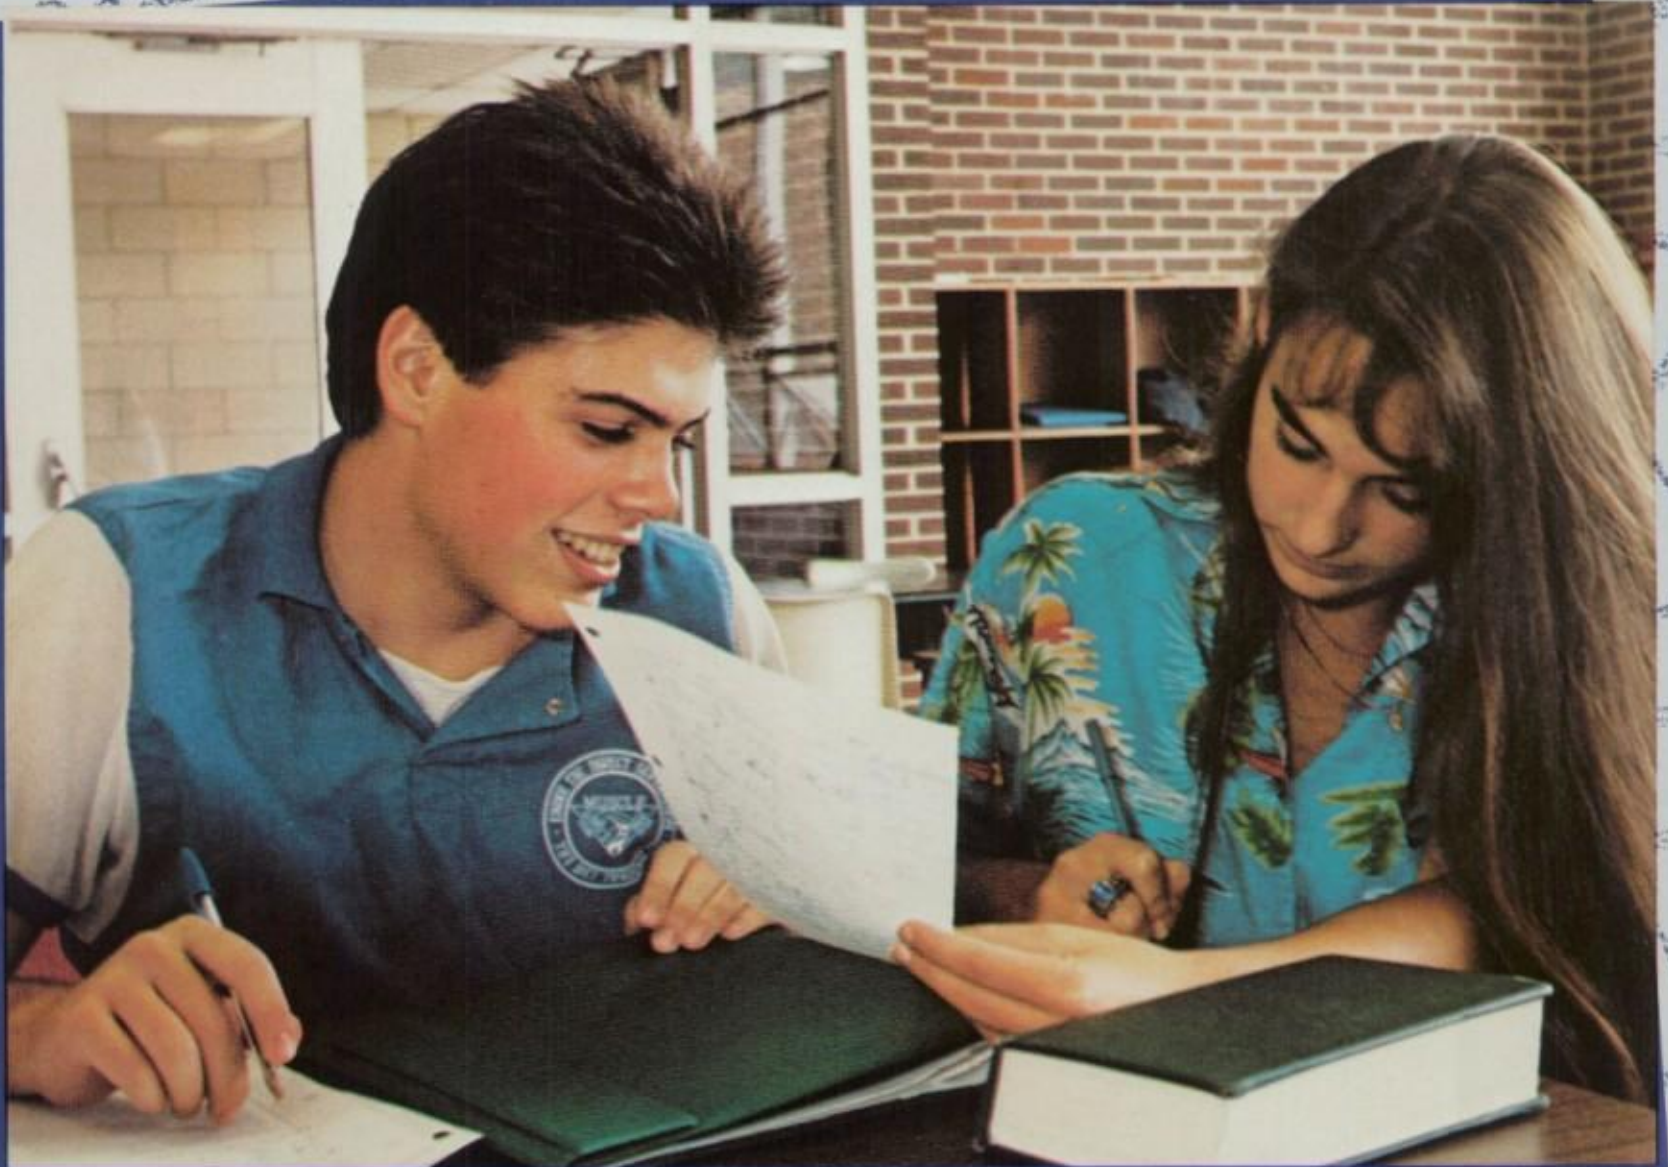

C. Eileen McShane reflects.

D. Cathy O'Neil and Shari Rosenberg are all smiles.

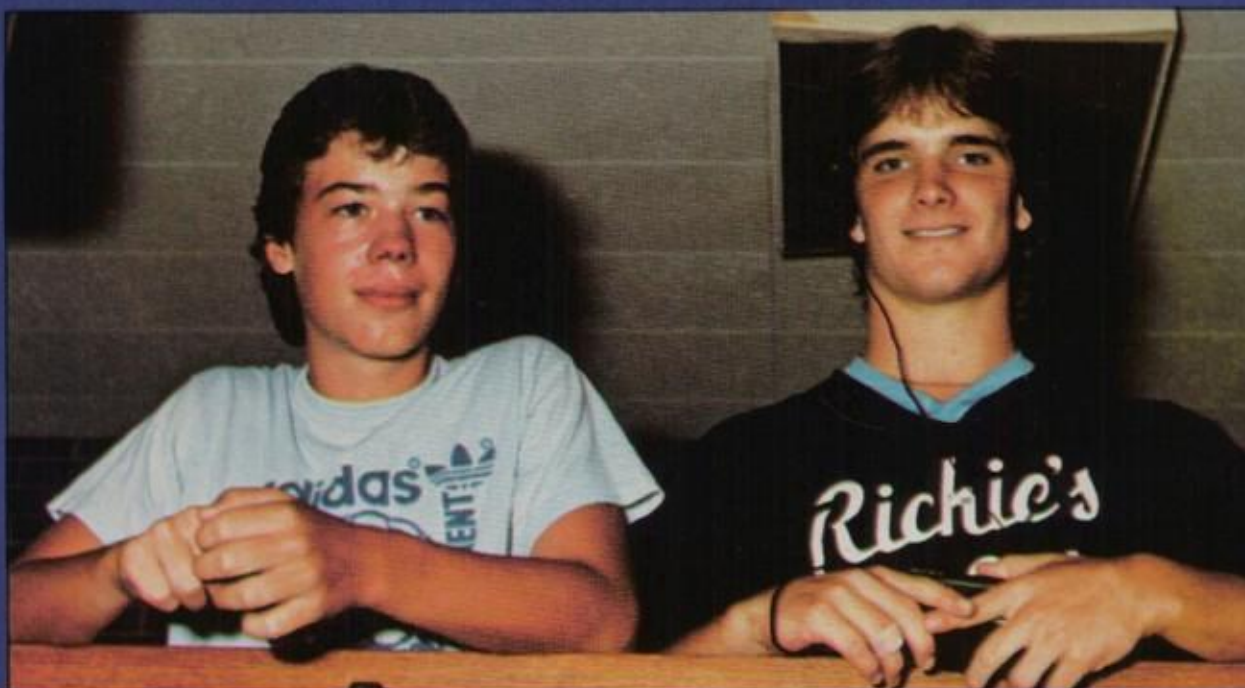

E. Many have dreams of becoming musicians, but Matt Politi is a step ahead of most.

Infinite Horizons

A.

B.

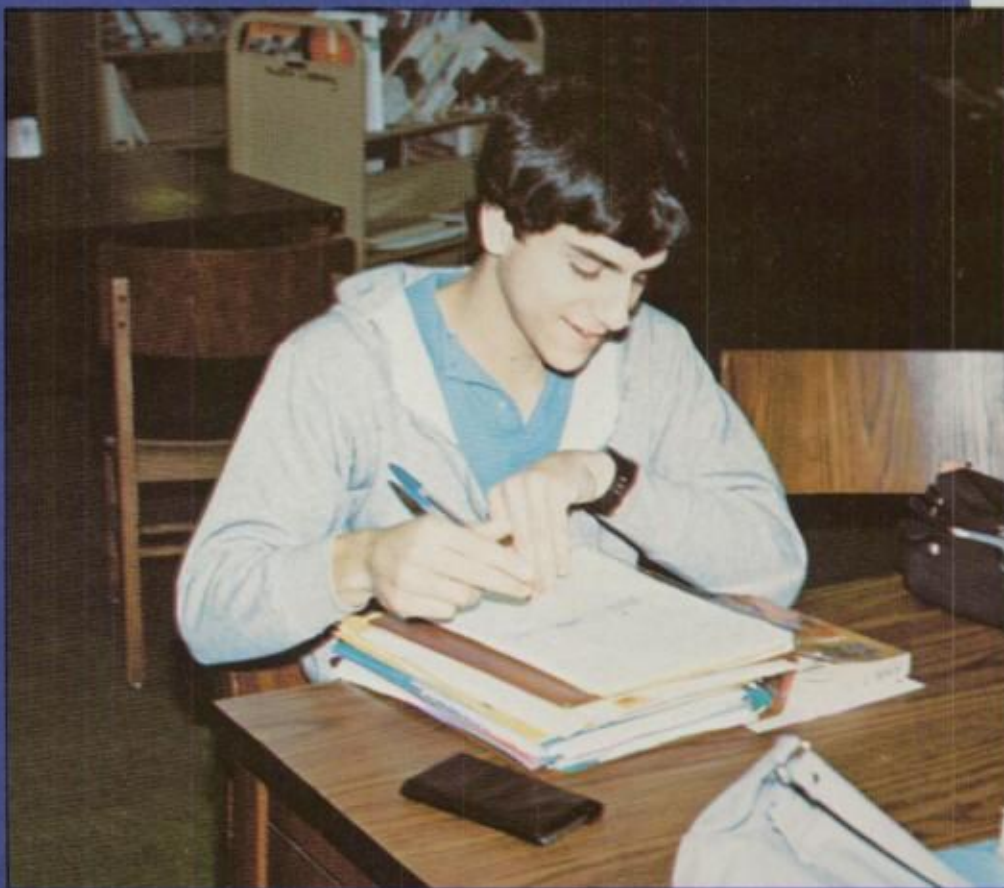

C.

Just over the horizon lies a brilliant future — a future of innumerable possibilities. Look beyond the boundary of sky and earth, of present and future, and realize the astounding potential of the time to come. Life is finite, but the extent to which one lives is truly infinite.

Dedication

As our teacher you have taught us well, instilling knowledge in us that will last a lifetime. As our friend you have shared our laughter, soothed our tears, and supported our endeavors.

Through your very special characteristics, you have helped us to see ourselves as unique individuals, and taught us to appreciate the individuality of others.

With respect and appreciation, we, the class of 1987, dedicate our yearbook to you, Ms. Denise Kissane, teacher and friend.

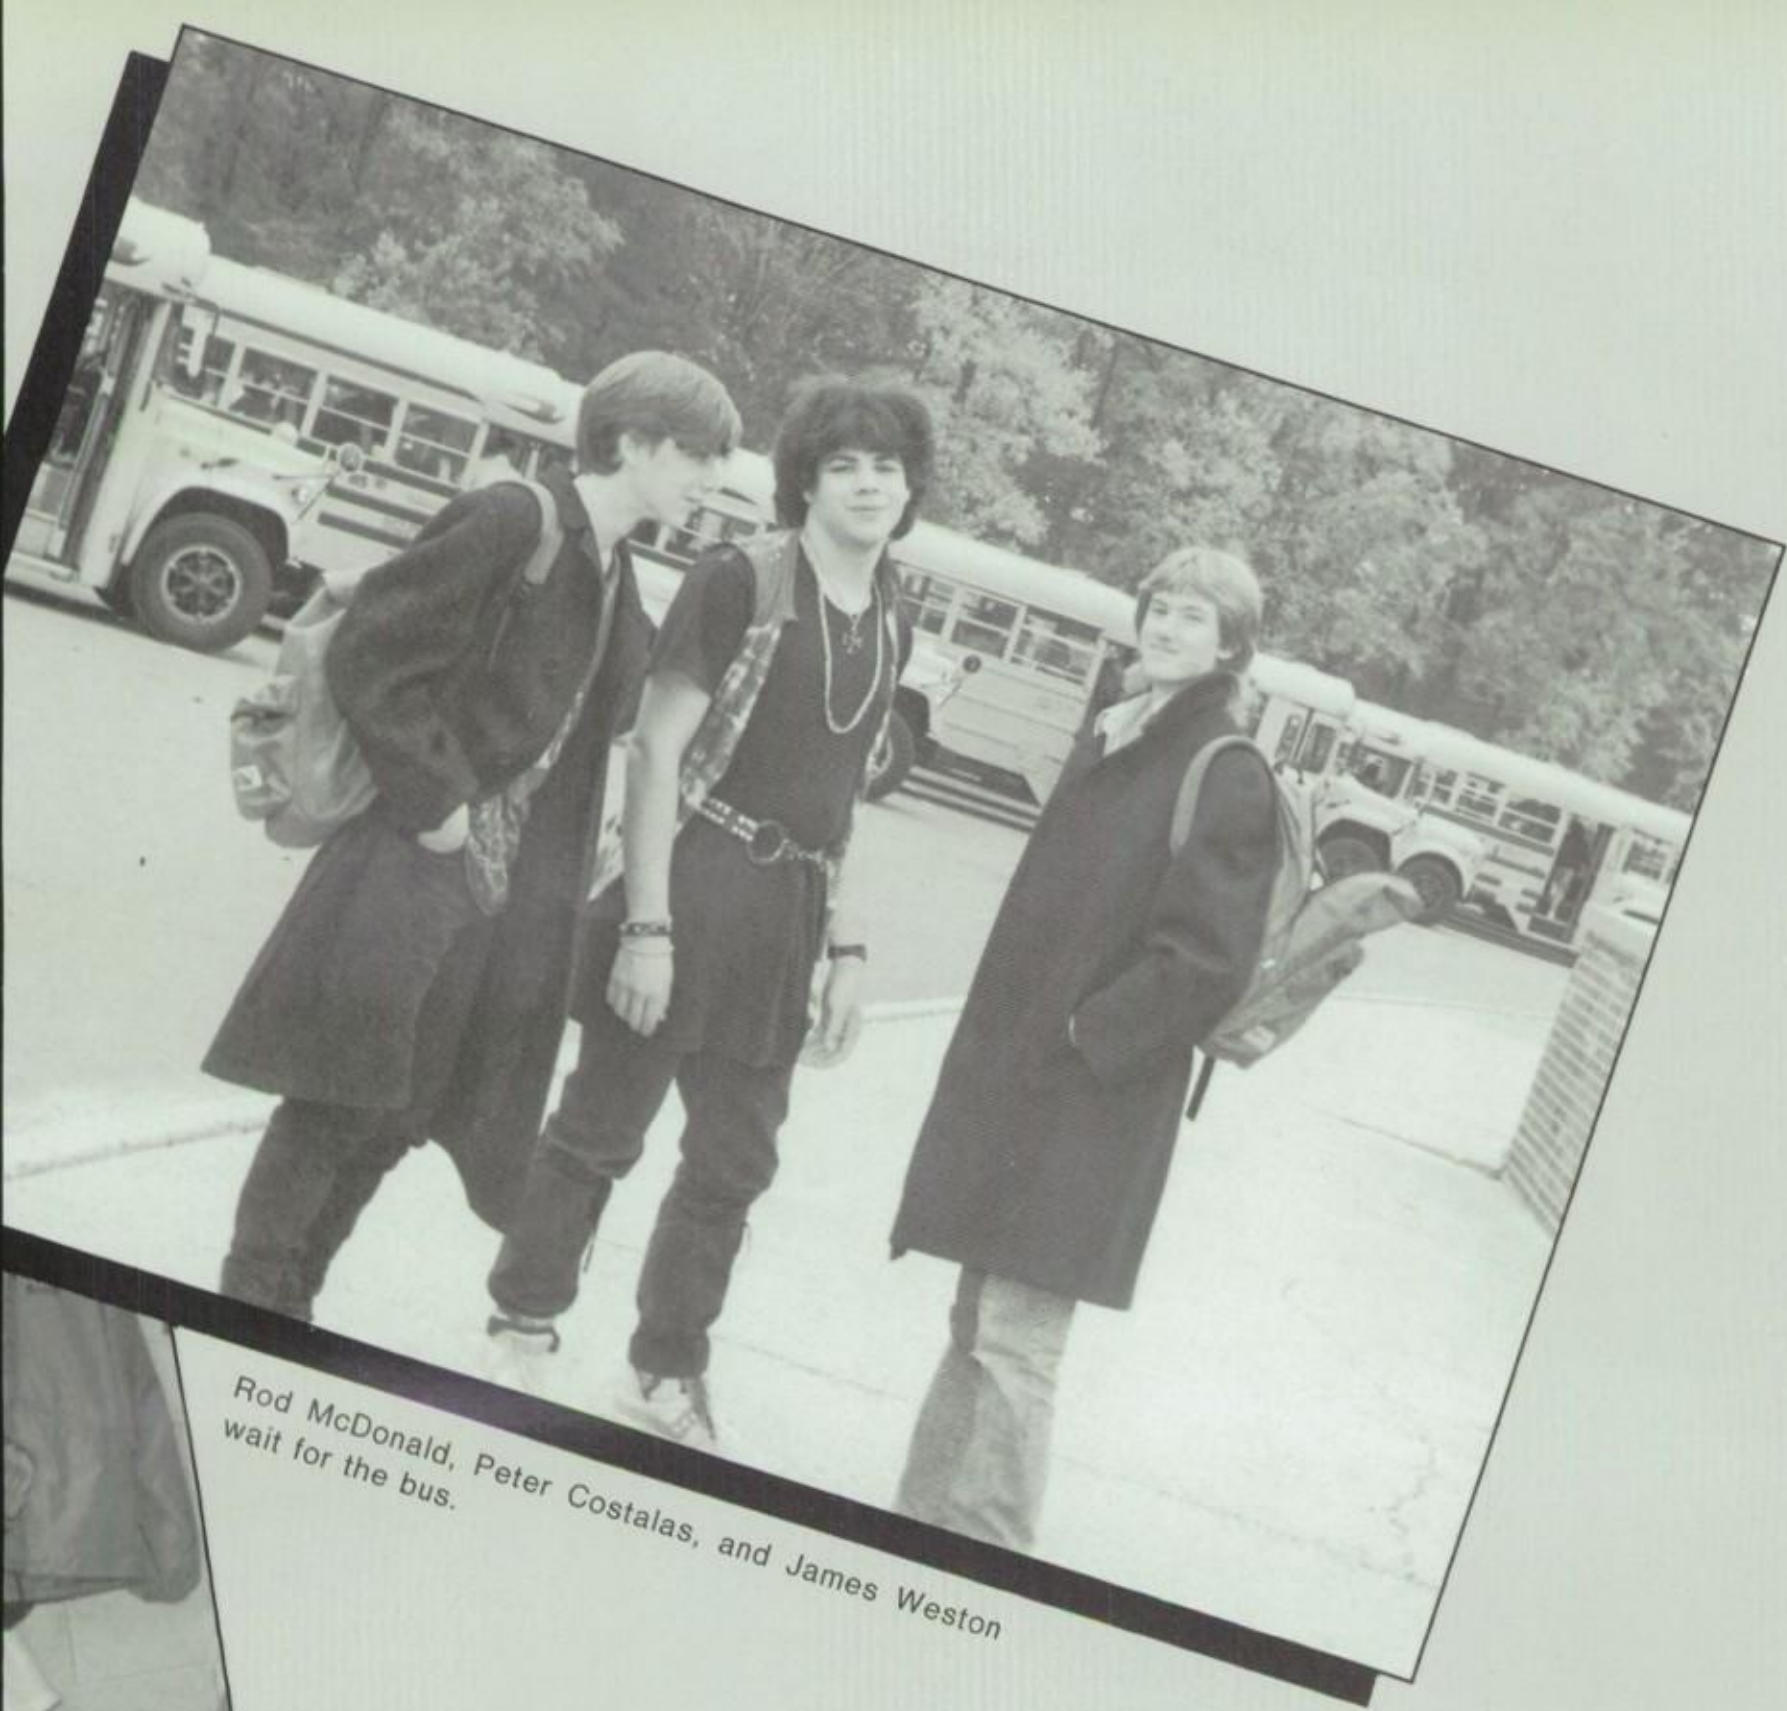

Gina Edmonds displays the G.O. store's line of clothing.

FRIENDS MEAN FUN

Real friends are ones who are always there
To laugh and cry and love and share
People to talk to and give their support
Offer advice and rarely retort.
They cheer you when you're feeling down
Smiling and joking and clowning around Sometimes serious and sometimes not Always there when you're in a spot.

Real friends are people who really care
We treasure them for they are very rare.

A.

B.

A. As Jill Dublanyk and Mary Reidi know, lunch is a great time to be with friends.

B. Jill Barnattan and Fran Marcel — fire drills are great for seeing friends.

C. The lobby is the place for this bunch.

D.

E.

F.

D. A wall of friends.

E. Jeff Hersh, David Bachman, and Jason Cohen enjoy lunch together.

F. Barbara Chase, Doreen Baione, Kathleen Scatigno meet in the hallway.

B.

BETWEEN CLASSES

They walk and talk, sit and relax, by the stairs, on the floor, or upon the senior bench. They wander the hallways, they gather in the lobby. They are deep in their discussions, or within their textbook chapters. They are summoned by the bell, and exchange their homework papers. They are the students in between classes.

D.

Dear Rich,
It's been great
getting to know you better in school and work. You're really a great guy and an awesome guy to be in touch with. Good luck next year and always,
Love,
Jodi

E. Lauren Stangel gets ready to begin her school day.

F. David Donis and Mike Caplan take a break before entering class.

G. Pat McCullen, Lisa Guffanti, Denise Burkel, and John McPartland spend lunch in the lobby.

Alas, Alas;
The seniors cry
Halloween is dead
Another privilege dies

Four years we had waited
For this very day
When we finally made it,
It was taken away

Our begs, our pleads
were to no avail
We seniors claimed
We studied in jail

October 31 a day
like all the rest
And so

in normal clothes we dressed

So — Here lies Halloween
A celebration ceased
Goodbye: Senior Privileges
Rest in Peace

A SPECIAL DAY

The Special Olympics is more than just a competition. It is the day when special athletes of all ages join together to celebrate the achievements of the human spirit and will. Along with the running and jumping medals the student volunteers share in something even greater: the love that these true Olympians feel in their heart and share with the world, whether they have won or lost their event.

Let Me Win

AFTER HOURS

For many students, after school time is more than just soap operas and shopping. These students work hard to earn some extra spending money or money for their futures. They must find a balance between working and their homework, and still manage to have time to enjoy themselves. It's not always easy, but if asked, these hardworking people will probably say it's worth the effort.

CLASSY CLOTHES

Even though the students in our school are not models, their clothes often could be found in a fashion magazine. The "hot" fashions of this school year have been seen throughout the halls. The styles have ranged from very short to quite long. This year's line is a long, sleek look which is used in the skirts and jackets of the season. Also, as a reminder of the past, the collegiate sweaters have been a big hit. The styles have covered a wide area, ranging from the army look to the conservative, preppy look. The colors have been very bright with all shades of the spectrum. Fancy footwear with leggings is always a nice touch. Boots of all kinds have been very popular. Shoes can be anything from the simple Black Reebok sneakers, to the classic penny loafers, and everything in between.

PRELUDE TO THE PROM

Jeans and sneakers were replaced with satin and lace on the night of May 15, 1986. We danced the night away to loud music and romantic melodies, such as "We've Got Tonight", the theme song of the evening.

Flowers, both real and silk, burgundy and pink crepe paper and streamers transformed our lobby and added to the romance of the evening. For those who went, the Junior Ball was a night to remember.

Dear Mom and Dad,
Hi! I'm having a great time! All the work has really paid off. Walt Disney World was so exciting. The atmosphere was great as we marched under the lights. As Mr. Garbinsky says, we really were a well oiled machine. We looked fantastic. Everyone was in step. At Circus World, it was great to see the chaperones walk on the tightrope. Guess what, I met Mickey Mouse, Minnie, and Donald Duck. We also got our picture taken at Circus World. Can you imagine Mr. Garbinsky in a fairy costume? I hope my pictures of it came out. It was so hysterical at the pool party when all the guys threw the girls in the pool. Then, we had about a hundred people in the hot tub at once. The bus ride was definitely an experience. I didn't get much sleep, but I'll remember it forever. Well, gotta go and work on my tan.

Miss You,
Love, Lisa

HAUNTING THE HALLWAYS

During the school days the hallways reverberate with swarms of students trying to weave their way through the traffic. Sometimes it seems that there is never enough time between classes. Students manage to go to the bathroom, get to their lockers, chat with their friends, and finally get to class — all before the late bell.

At the end of the day, after the last student has emptied his locker, an eerie silence pervades the hallways. It seems strange to walk through the school without bumping into friends. The silence doesn't last long, however, and at 7:30 the next morning the lively chatter of students can be heard again.

After this year's victory in the North-South football game the Homecoming was a perfect way to finish. The day was definitely one to remember. After staying until the last moment to enjoy the win, everyone rushed home and got dressed. Then we went out to dinner; eating spaghetti while you're wearing a white dress is extremely dangerous. We finally made it to the dance and saw that the lobby looked really great. It was hard to imagine that all the football players who had been covered with mud were now standing there in suits. Everyone got into the mood really quickly since the music was great. Then the nominees for homecoming king and queen were announced; Danine Verlezza and Greg Casarella were really excited when they won. The evening flew by too quickly. As my head hit the pillow, visions of my night came back. I hoped my pictures came out well; I would remember this night forever.

A DIRECT HIT

It is February 14th and a rash of cupid's arrows is spreading throughout the school.

Flowers, candy, and cards are visible in the grasp of elated students. They might be holding a flower received during homeroom from a friendly volunteer. The accompanying card is brief and flattering. It might be signed by a boyfriend, a girlfriend, a sibling, or the infamous Secret Admirer.

Hopefully this Valentine's day will be remembered with cheer and joy and with the promises of a sweetheart.

BREAK TIME

School Lunch is characteristically awful. The meats are indistinguishable from the vegetables, and the cafeteria's students are often reminiscent of a Meadowland's crowd.

However, Seniors sometimes break away from the chaos of fifth or sixth period. They jump in their car, and travel nearby for a more respectable meal.

Lunch acts as a break in the school day routine. Although it is only 45 minutes in length, there might enough time to finish some homework or to make a necessary phone call or attempt to order out for pizza. But for seniors especially, it is an escape.

COLLEGE CONFUSION

Time seemed to stand still. Why wasn't the mail here yet? I had waited for this day to come for so long. What if my worst nightmares came true. I quickly put this horrible thought out of my mind. Out of twenty colleges that I applied to one must accept me. But what if my applications had gotten lost in the mail.

I was glad that I would finally be making a decision though. When the first college viewbooks came I was so excited. As the pile of books grew in my room, my despair grew. How was I ever going to make a decision? All the books seemed to have the same group of friends sitting on the steps of an ivy covered building studying. My whole family, every aunt, uncle, and cousin would say, "So where do you want to go to school?"

The applications were the worst part; for weeks I felt as if I was glued to my typewriter. I still haven't figured out whether anyone tells the truth on their application. It really isn't fair. I'm only a typical Clarkstown teenager. What's the most important event in my life: going to the mall or hanging out at the movies. Sorry, I haven't had the opportunity to travel to the Amazon yet. I would be perfectly happy to never see a vocabulary list again. My goal in life is to actually be able to say a complete sentence consisting of only SAT words.

The college interview is the cause of many a senior's sleepless nights. I had visions of sitting on one side of a big desk. What you say when asked to describe yourself: intelligent, industrious, friendly, energetic, popular, wonderful and modest?

I awoke from my daydream when my little brother came running and screaming, "It's here!" As I grabbed the letter from him, my hands were trembling. Was the envelope too small? I put the letter up to the light to try to see what it said. "Stop," I told myself. "This is silly." Slowly I opened the envelope. My nervous eyes darted across the paper until I found the words "CONGRATULATIONS" "Ahhh!!! I'm in!" I shrieked and proceeded to faint.

The Viking Voice

Every First week of the month another issue of the newspaper is distributed.
 Students leaf through the news, features, editorial,
 and sports sections, unaware that what they have in their hands is the finished product of a lot of hard work. Say "deadline" to any member of the Viking Voice staff and he or she will tell you a story of pressure, panic, and accomplishment.

The amount of work that goes into each issue is largely unappreciated.
 Writing stores, laying out pages, editing articles, and calculating headlines are all parts of the process. But, after all is said and done, a little bit of the experience will live on in everyone.

La Fiesta Española

At first glance an Oscar Meyer commercial, classical guitar, and flan don't seem to have anything in common; however, the Spanish Fiesta brought these items and much more together. It all began back in September on the first day of school when Mr. Lima started talking about the Fiesta to his Spanish 4 students. Since then we had endless planning sessions trying to prepare for the big event. Hearing that I would have to cook was the worst part. I didn't know who would want to eat anything that I could prepare, but I have to admit that the food turned out pretty good. Then we had to learn La Canta de Amistad, a Spanish song about peace in Latin America. Half the class couldn't even carry a tune in English forget about singing in Spanish.

Then the day of the Fiesta, Friday December 12, finally came. We transformed the cafeteria into a restaurant with "atmosphere." Between the balloons, decorations, and tablecloths, the cafeteria was beyond recognition. The night finally came; I couldn't believe that we'd made it on time. Everyone was so excited and prepared to have a great time. First, the guests of the students were tasting many different Spanish foods such as gazpacho, paella, and arroz con pollo. There was a wide variety of entertainment from the classical Spanish guitarist, Jamie Andres, to a special version of Vuelto Loco and La Bamba. One of the highlights of the evening was the Spanish commercials that the students performed; some of the favorites were Oscar Meyer, Safeguard, Miracle Whip, Bartles and Jaymes and Hefty's. Even after all the hard work, the Fiesta was still worth it. I'm just sorry that it's over.

SADD CREATES FORCEFUL IMPACT

The name of our school used to be displayed on the wall in the front of the school. Due to vandalism, however, the letters are no longer there. One fall morning, everyone recovered a startling message courtesy of SADD. For once, the wall was utilized for a good purpose: education. The members of SADD reminded us what can happen if you drink and drive. Hopefully the impact of this forceful message will remain in our hearts and minds long after school is over.

BACK STAGE

When the curtain opens and the audience is occupied, viewing the show, who is making everything run smoothly, with all the flash and class expected? The stage crew is that rarely commended, seldom seen group.

They work after school hours, planning and constructing for the next show. They design and build the sets and operate the lights.

Before the first performance, the crew might work to midnight, finishing up the set and getting down the necessary details. Although the audience only catches a glimpse of them, changing the scenery or operating the spotlight, they are there, holding it all together.

SOUND THE DRUMS

It's late Saturday afternoon, and the football players just left the field for halftime. Suddenly the drums' powerful beat is heard and South's marching band appears on the field. The intense feeling of South spirit fills the air as the fans enjoy the band's strong and impressive brass and woodwind sections.

GETTING PSYCHED

The crowd applauds and the megaphones blare,
The banners wave and the audience stares.
Again they gather, to root for their team,
No matter the score, or how hopeless it seems.
They're ready, determined, lining the stands,
Waiting and watching, they are the fans.

The excitement of the football season reaches a peak as the school anticipates the annual North-South game.

The gym's stands fill the night before the big game. The enthusiasm pervades the room, as the cheerleaders perform their routines. The steps are well rehearsed, by both varsity and J.V. Fans take an active part in the cheers, shouting in unison.

The big pep rally is a success. The school spirit is intense. The soaring emotion of the night carries through the bonfire to the game the following day, where the stands are again packed. South spirit proves strong!

ADDING EXCITEMENT TO THE BAND

As I waited silently, I felt butterflies in my stomach. It was my first time marching and I was extremely nervous. What if I dropped my baton? Everyone would laugh and tease me. I would be so embarrassed. Then I heard the whistles. One, two, three, four . . . Quickly I glanced around to make sure that I was in step. So far O.K. Oh no, everyone was already marching around the field. Once I caught up and I concentrated on my twirling. I was so nervous, how could I remember the routine. I reminded myself just to smile. Then it was time for the toss. As I threw the baton up, I prayed that it would come back down in the right spot. Oh my God — What a nightmare. As the baton spun I concentrated. It was right where I wanted it. Holding my breath, I reached out to catch it. Slowly I looked down. The baton was in my hand. Hearing the applause, I smiled. As we marched off, I realized that I had made it. I couldn't wait until the next game. I wanted to go back on the field and twirl again.

RADIO TALK

Cousin Brucie Morrow, the noted radio personality, currently working at WINS, WABC, and WCBS-FM visited this fall. He spoke with students interested in careers in video and broadcasting. Cousin Brucie is credited with bringing the Beatles to their first American performance at Shea Stadium.

When talking with students he stresses the need to enjoy a job and work hard at it. He impresses upon students the importance of learning to survive in the world outside school. With his manner of speaking and knowledge of his industry, Cousin Brucie incited the imagination of future radio talent.

MAKING A DIFFERENCE

Every week members of Interact and the Community Service Club spend time visiting with residents at Freidwald House Nursing Home, Letchworth Village and Pomona Nursing Home. What they do is very simple: these students help bring a little bit of attention and a lot of love to people who often are not able to see their families or other loved ones for long periods of time.

Many times, in addition to talking about events from the outside world, student's are privileged in sharing in the memories and experiences of the older people in the nursing home. This perhaps, is one of the most exciting aspects of volunteering in these programs: finding out the stories behind the faces.

SHOUTING IT OUT

Without the cheerleaders, the football games would lack flare. They voice words of encouragement, no matter what the score or weather. Their carefully planned routines require a great deal of work. They spend many days after school, working to perfect cheers and steps. It is obvious from the crowd in the stands that their work is effective. Their shouts are often echoed by the audience, bringing life to otherwise boring moments, and enhancing the excitement of touchdowns and field goals.

But the cheerleaders' enthusiasm does not end at the football field. Their spirit carries through to the school days, and their vigor is noticeable throughout South's halls. The cheerleaders help to sustain our high school image. Their spirit will long be remembered.

HITTING AHEAD

Despite a slow start, the 1986 Varsity baseball team, under the leadership of Coach Bladel, made it to the playoffs. The club had, without a question, tremendous individual talent easily capable of gaining a championship title. Unfortunately, this was prevented by the combination of inconsistent hitting and pitching. Quality hitting and fielding were demonstrated by Charlie Maneri, Joe Bavaro and Jim Cann. These were the players who would be the best bets to drive in a runner under a pressure situation.

Due to often inconsistent pitching by the staff, who all incurred injuries at one time or another, starting and relieving pitchers were never clearly established. However, well pitched games can be credited to Tim Neil, Sean Jacobs and Louis Sigillo. The most consistent pitcher was Tom McKeon who pitched well enough to win half of the team's games. The season highlight was the victory over North in the playoffs. This helped lift everyone's spirit after a slightly frustrating season.

"Those Amazin' Vikes." That's what the avid fans at South were calling the Girls' Varsity softball team during the '86 season. The Vikings accumulated a 12-0 record in the league and a 20-3 record overall. They were the conference A champions and seeded number 1 in the section 1 tournament.

DOING IT RIGHT

The 1986 season for the Viking Lacrosse team was one of rebuilding for next year. Led mostly by juniors, the team had a 6-10 record but are expected to dominate the league next year.

The 1986 co-captains Matt Vanderlinde and Steve Liscio led the team and had an outstanding year. Attackers John Dowd and Rich Cunningham burned up the field this year while Bill McGrogan tended the net.

One of the highlights of the season was the win against North Rockland at the end of the season. South's 9-4 victory crushed North Rockland's chances of making the playoffs.

Although South's record wasn't as good as they had hoped for, next year the team will definitely be a force to be reckoned with.

MAKING IT WORK

The 1986 season held many challenges for the girl's lacrosse team. After losing key players Sheila Barnes, Kristen Vanderlinde, Theresa Dowd, and Bette Harrow, senior captains Missy Goldberg, Kerry Vanderlinde, and Lynn DeForest had to work extra hard to succeed.

Varsity finished their season with a good record. The improvement from the 1985 season was largely due to all conference player and leading scorer Kerri Vanderlinde. Missy Goldberg and Lynn DeForest were also all-conference.

The team consisted of many sophomores and juniors who show great promise for next season. The team is looking forward to an even better season in the spring of 1987.

RUNNING AHEAD

The boy's spring track team finished the 1986 season with a 2-3 record, and finished sixth in the county meet. Captain Alex Rios lead the team in hurdles and sprinting as well as winning the Baton Award and receiving all section honorable mention for 110 meter hurdles. Other captains were Greg Deely, Paul Lockwood, who was the M.V.P. and junior Bill Derasmo who received the Coach's Award and was sixth in the county for the mile. Junior Mike Shiel also brought honors to the team as he came in third in the pole vault.

The girls achieved a 5-1 record, and the boys ended up with a 4-2 record. The boys team came in third place in the county meet.

The boy's tennis team had an exemplary season in 1986, finishing second place in the conference. Despite starting off slowly, losing their first three matches, the team managed to come from behind and win their next twelve out of thirteen games with a twelve and four record.

Outstanding players included first team all county player and team captain Scott Cooper, first team all county doubles Eric Katz and Mike Edlsteni, third team all-county player Grag Meyer, and third team all County doubles Ken Seitel and Mihir Goswami. Mike Caplan and Brian Rosen also play well.

AIMING FOR ACES

This year, the fall tennis season of 1986 began with the prediction from the newspapers that Clarkstown North would be the champs. However, our girls varsity tennis team reigned supreme. With a 53 game winning streak and a 13 and 1 record this season, the girls tennis team proved themselves to be the true champions.

With returning Seniors, (co-captains) Lysa Taglia and Jodie Aronwald, Andrea White, Chrissy Larkin, Karen Levine, along with five other returning sophomores and Juniors plus star Sophomore first singles player Vivian Chang, the girls team was an unstoppable force in the league.

Along with the league 1 title, the team took first place in the Rockland County Invitational Tournament. Coach Ken Holvig has high hopes for next season. He says that since all of the singles players are returning, and there are many promising JV players the 1987 team will be just as dominating as the 1986 team.

SPIKING TO VICTORY

Thinking back to the incredible season his volleyball team had, coach Al Campora is impressed. The team ended with a 21-3 record, winning the championship games against North in the final fall tournament 15-9, 15-12.

Campora commends his team captains: AnnMarie Patisso, Amy Wechsler and Danine Verlezza. Other outstanding players were: Senior Dahila Rizk and Juniors Joanie Amendola, Kristi Stafford, and Missy Vitro.

Coach Campora sums things up by saying "I knew we would have a good team. Our objective was to make it to the top four. Our next goal was to be number one. I knew they had the talent, it was just confidence and playing as a team. This accomplishment would make them win, and they did. They really deserve it. # IT'S TEE TIME

This year's golf team took the league by surprise led by co-captains Pete Eisenzoph and Marc Breuer, returning seniors Paul Guarino, Peter Katz, and Steve Allen. They showed the way to a 14-5 overall record while amassing a 9-3 record within the league. The season was highlighted by their County Championship status. Pete Katz earned medalist honors by recording a team leading 82. Paul Guarino, the team's number one man also paced the team to this upset. The Vikings are a young team which shows tremendous promise. Some up and coming prospects include Andy Montalbano, Chris Albers, and Paul Rothstein. Others who contributed to the year's success are Steven Funk, Mike Rothstein, and Dave Warren. One member of the team says that next year's Vikings could well be one of the greatest teams it has ever known.

AIN'T IT A KICK!

Score another one for the boy's soccer team of 1986. With a record of 7 and 9 the Varsity team was a strong power in high school soccer. With returning Seniors, John Barry, Carl Brandt, Mike Burkert, John Walsh, Mike Schwalenberg, Dan Kelly, Igor Manoylovich, Joe Phillips, and Brian Meagher, the team was full of experienced players. With help from underclassmen: Mike Donoghue, Tom Heim, Joe Sorrentino, Brian Rose, and Ron Young, the team will look forward to another great year. With two sophomores, Scott Jacobs, and star goalie Tom Heim, led by Coach Glen Nelson, the team should have many more powerful seasons.

SHOOTING FOR SUCCESS

For the past three years the girl's soccer team has been champion. This year, with the loss of only two starters, the team expected to reign again. Unfortunately, the team lost in the section 1 final game to North Rockland by a heart-breaking 1-0 score. The team ended its season with a successful record.

For the third year in a row, Maureen McCarthy was named to the all-section team. Gina Edmonds and Kathy Garvey were also named. Sisters Christy and Cathy Davidson were given honorable mention. The top scorers for the year were Kathy Garvey and Christy Davidson. South had strong support from the seniors: Kathy and Christy Davidson, Jill Brady, Allison Palmiatto, and co-captains Liz Katz and Gina Edmonds. Gina was MVP, and Liz received the Coaches' award.

A VIKING'S FAVORITE PASTIME — FOOTBALL.

South's football team had a disappointing record of 2-7, but one of its victories came when it counted — against North for the Homecoming. South won the battle 7-3 on Tom Foley's touchdown run.

Other highlights of the season included a victory over Ramapo on South's homefield. The game featured South's special teams as Steve Whitfield ran back several punt and kick-off returns for touchdowns. Coach Scro cited valuable contributions from captains Frank Surace, Jaime Dowd, Jim Killerlane, and Rich Prestegaard. Jim won All-Section and All-Conference honors for the third year in a row. Other All-Conference and All-Section winners were Tom McDermott, Tom Foley, and Jamie Dowd.

The season ended on a down note as Coach Scro announced his retirement from coaching football at South. Mr. Scro brought several championships to South and will be sorely missed by all in the program.

A SPLASHING SUCCESS

This year, the Clarkstown South girls swim team was full of many returning stars. Led by captains Lisa Giglio, and Kerry Ann Sullivan, the team was a threatening force to many schools. With returning stars; Beth Capobianco, Kathy Dahm, Jessica Dempsey, Jeanne Maloney, Lisa Giglio, Michelle Glaser, and Susan Olivo, the team was definitely not lacking experience. Beth Capobianco placed first in the section 1 championship 500 yard freestyle and Newberg Free Academy. Even though senior stars Beth, Lisa, and Kerry Ann Sullivan will not be here next year, the hopes are high because of the new stars, Eileen Buckley, Megan Bradley, and Ronnie Glaser. With a record of 9 and 3, this year has been felt as a major success for this year in girls swimming.

SPORTS: MORE THAN

As the saying goes, "It doesn't matter if you win or lose it's how you play the game." Viking athletes demonstrate this quality to the utmost.

They, along with many other students and faculty members, donate their time to the special olympics, spreading love and pride and a sense of accomplishment to very special athletes. They also give of themselves by teaching younger students the dangers of substance abuse.

While on sports teams, students form enduring friendships, and experience a sense of commitment to a common goal. These values will last for their lifetimes, helping them in whatever they do.

South's boys basketball team finished its season with a misleading 6 and 9 record. Although the record is disappointing, there are many memorable moments from this years season.

When talking about highlights, one has to mention upset wins over class B's number one team Albertus Magnus, class A's number one team New Rochelle and arch rival Clarkstown North. The victory basket against Clarkstown North is a home game to be remembered for years to come.

Large contributions in the season were made by co-captains Jamie Dowd and Kevin Hastings. The team also had late season help from high scoring junior Adam Guerrero. Junior Gregg Meier was the team's high scorer and was elected to the All League-1 team for his efforts.

Victory is Soooo Great!

This year's girls basketball team was the best team Clarkstown South has ever seen. This is due to the balance, teamwork, and depth of the team. The team was equipped with a great number of superior athletes. For the first time in Rockland County, two teammates scored over 1,000 career points. They were Karen Walker and Maureen McCarthy. Maureen was the first junior to ever score 1,000 pts. The team won Conference A, and ended the regular season with a perfect, undefeated record of 20-0. The average number of points the team won by was 20. Nine times the team won by over 26. The closest any team ever came was 10 points. In addition, in a sectional game the team scored 85 points, which is the most points ever scored by a South girls team. That win made the team 22-0, which is the most amount of games any girls' South team has won. The team was led by seniors and tri-captains, Karen Walker, Anne Marie Pattisso, and Gina Edmonds. Junior, Maureen McCarthy, who was the leading scorer and sophomore Susan Miani. Liz Katz, a senior, and sophomores, Tina Hogarty and Helen Shine provided strong support coming off the bench. Throughout the season the team was ranked as high as 2nd in New York State, and at the time of press they were en route to the finals.

AS SWEET AS SUGAR

Who ever said ice hockey is a sport just for boys? The girls on the Sugar Cup have proven them wrong. with the help of Coach Marin and his son Chris, who also attends South, the team is strong, skilled, and ready to win. The girls had two practices a month, and in the approaching weeks to the big game, they got together a few times a week. The Sugar Cup takes place on March 14. The coaches are tough on the girls and expect a lot from them. Coach Marin teaches the girls hockey techniques while the figure skaters of the group help with the skating. Put this all together and you get a team of winners.

Although this year was cited as one of rebuilding for the Viking Hockey Team Coach Ken Holvig had high hopes for the season. With almost a 500 record the Vikings finished very respectably in their tough division. The South team was led by Captains Jim Killerlane and Kevin Boggan. Defenseman Jim Killerlane is a four year player who is in his senior year. Kevin Boggan is a junior center who will be back next year. Other starters on the team are defensemen Chris Marin, Tom Prendergast and Brian Bohan. Forwards for the team are Dave Falk, Mike Wechsler, Mike Araneo, Bill Milaccio, Andy Chalfin, Joe Ditta and Joe Pellegrino. I sit and stare at the lifeless screen. At the end of a long hard day of schoolwork this screen becomes so tiring to look at. My dad is always telling me about when he went to high school back in 1987. He said that they had real live teachers and to ask a question you had to raise your hand! That must've looked awfully funny. He says instead of sitting at the same computer for 8 hours each day, the school day was broken up into 8 parts, periods. My dad always talks about these things at dinner when I start complaining about school. He told me that when he was in the ninth grade he had to walk up three flights of stairs (count 'em, three), try to slam his books into a tiny metal closet that he couldn't reach, and still face an entire day of hard work. I don't know about you, but to me that sounds like cruel and unusual punishment.

I guess life with computers isn't so rough. But sometimes I wonder if I'm not missing something. I wonder if a kind smile from an understanding teacher really would make me feel a little bit better.

THE MANY FACES OF SOUTH

There are many different faces at South. There is the concentrated look of a student tackling a test, the excited glance of a musician, and the jubilant look of a winning athlete. To accomodate these many faces, there are almost as many ways to fill up one's time at South. There are the English, Social Studies, Math, and Science programs plus foreign language, Music, Art, and P.E. To accomodate yet more students, South offers business classes, a BOCES program, and home economics courses.

But beneath the many tests, the faces of South make our school what it is. The atmosphere of any place is determined by who inhabits that place. The wide variety of faces adds a certain color and excitement to life at South.

NOT NECESSARILY STUDYING

G

Whether it is watching television, listening to the stereo blast the latest tunes, or just hanging out, most high school students will do almost never dream of skipping a homework assignment or not studying for a test, but that is to be expected. For most students, studying is a boring and somewhat painful process. Of course, in the end, most of us do buckle down and get the job done, but studying is never as much fun as trying to avoid it.

E. This South student will look at anything to avoid studying.

There is excitement in the air as the auditorium begins to fill up with people. It is a cold winter evening on January 14th yet the auditorium is warm with anticipation. The Induction get under way and the auditorium falls silent. We listen to speeches made by the officers of the National Honor Society, Mrs. Cassidy, and Mr. Bierker. Mr. Scro inspires us all with his speech and the orchestra dazzles us with music. The evening is a success for all who participated.

Faculty and Administration

Administration

Dr. John Krause is in his second year as Clarkstown's superintendent. He is more than just the "man who closes the schools on snow days". He has a difficult job which he performs without much acknowledgement.

Dr. Krause was educated at Temple, Penn State, and Bloomsburg State Universities. He was a teacher in Pennsylvania, at West Hazelton Elementary. He moved on to be an elementary principal in Elk Township and then working as the principal of Delsea Regional High in Franklinville, N.J. He became superintendent of schools in Southern Gloucester County, N.J., as well as in Middletown, N.Y. He also taught at SUNY Albany, before moving to Clarkstown as Donald Van Wagoner's replacement as superintendent.

Dr. Krause's role in the school district includes attending school board meetings as the non-voting advisor. He is the "Big man" in the district, a position of high responsibility.

Gerold Bieker, Principal

Mr. Gerold Bierker may be new to his position as principal of South High, but he is no stranger to the Clarkstown School District. In fact, Mr. Bierker has been involved in education for quite a while — he has earned his place in the office with the title of principal on the door.

In 1964 (after having worked in Tupper Lake, N.Y. as well as in Brooklyn, teaching math) he came to the district as a math teacher at North High. In '71, he was promoted to math department chairman. The next year he moved to the shining new South, as an attendance officer. In 1974, he became assistant principal, a position in which he remained until 1984, when he moved back to North. He stayed for two years as assistant principal, and then returned to South — as its present principal.

Mr. Bierker has plans for the high school that he foresees being instituted over 4 or 5 years. He wants to tie up the "loose ends" left by the recent, numerous changes in administration. He stresses an academic focus, an emphasis on the curriculum and course requirements. In the future, the expansion of the performing arts, improved relations to the community and the improvement of students' pride in the school are topics of priority to Mr. Bierker.

As for his "disciplinarian" image, Mr. Bierker says that he just has "no problem saying no!" He sees good prospects for South High. He intends to work hard to achieve his goals.

Another New Face

Ms. Eileen Camasso is certainly at home in Clarkstown's high schools. As the new second floor assistant principal, she is well-suited for her position.

Ms. Camasso was a graduate of North High School (what was then just Clarkstown High). She went to Hunter and Albany State colleges for her undergraduate work and for her graduate work she remained at Albany State. In 1973, she returned to North for her first teaching job as a social studies teacher. She remained there for over nine years.

As for her goals, Ms. Camasso intends to take a hard look at the curriculum. She will also lead the Child Study Team, dealing with problems and conflicts that face the students.

Although she generally deals with negative situations and she sometimes misses teaching, Ms. Camasso still enjoys her work with teenagers.

SETTING AN EXAMPLE

Someone once said young men learn how to be big men in the presence of big men who care about young men. Mo Scro is a man who cares about his young men. A chapter in the history of football at Clarkstown South will end with the retirement of Maurice Scro. Through his efforts and examples, Coach Scro has taught his athletes to be dignified and respectful men. His contributions will forever live in our minds and hearts. A part of anyone who has ever had anything to do with South football will go out to Coach when he leaves. There will never be a coach at South who will equal what this one man has achieved. From all of the students and faculty at South, our hearts and thanks go out to this great man.

FABULOUS FRESHMEN

Felix Festa Jr. High and all of its importance fades with time. South High is new, and the typical freshman is lost in the confusion of his first year.

The school day seems so long, with a hectic eight period schedule. Each teacher demands that his or her subject deserves the most attention, and assigns homework accordingly. A freshman exits the school building with a stack of books in his hands, making his way through the packs of upperclassmen to reach his destination: The Big

Yellow Bus.

Eventually the freshman learns that school-life does not end at the two-o'clock bell. It actually begins with after-school activity. Many clubs and sports provide a release and a cure for those freshman blues.

But every freshman knows that when he becomes an upperclassman, those blues will surely pick up tempo. Or will they . . .

Frantic with Fear

Freshmen converge through the doors of the school. They climb the steps to the upper level and make their way to their homerooms. Each has his own fears: of finding an upperclassman with a poor sense of direction, of finding himself in the right classroom on the wrong floor or the wrong period, of missing the bus or even worse taking the wrong bus.

Flirtatious Freshmen

They giggle, and they chatter. The freshmen never seem to stop their pursuit of a "special friend." They pass notes in various clever manners, to get the word through. They gather in groups to discuss the latest gossip. "Does he like her? . . ." "Does she like him? . . ." If the answer is yes, the smiles of delight shine through the hallways.

SUPER SOPHOMORES

Although they are graduated freshmen, sophomores are still uneducated in the horrors of the SAT's, the college applications, and the other frustrations of the junior and senior years. However, they are more knowledgeable than they ever were before.

They are beginning to feel "at Home" in the school, many becoming involved in club activities, as well as in the stands at athletic events. Some sophomores become varsity players in various sports, and gain acknowledgement after having been ignored in their freshman year.

Almost full citizenship is earned as freshman move on to their sophomore status. They feel a certain amount of respect earned in the process. It is the last year of upper-classmen oppression, and it is a year of joy and lack of responsibilities. But, it won't last forever!

Jolly Juniors

Juniors are certainly not the underclassmen that they were in the past. John Doe, Jr. is much different then John Doe — Junior. He has earned his place in the hierarchy of South's castle system.

A Junior works much harder than the average student. It is the year of the costume. In other words, it is a year of dressing up for the colleges. Studying, studying, and studying are the three key words synonymous with the Junior year. Maybe, if the student is really good at cramming (that mysterious late night art), he may find his way to a party or two.

The Junior Ball is by far the year's highlight (unless you include receiving your perfect 800 test scores.) This year is a clue to what lies ahead in college. The determination and hard work pays off in the end.

One More Year

We are all politicians, proclaiming the phrase "one more year" and hoping it is to be so.

After this year, the bulk of the work is over, and the senior title is earned. All energy is placed on facing and surviving the Junior Jungle.

College Looking

Barring exceptional brilliance, building donations, or "War Games" — type computer agility, most juniors busily search for colleges suited for their individuality, achievement and interest.

Most vacations are interrupted with a trip to the nearby university. Spare time is spent searching through college catalogs and speaking to guidance counselors about the best college moves.

SAT'S/PSAT'S

Sure, we all learned in first grade that the past tense of "sit" is "sat." But, now SAT takes on new meaning. It means pressure, studying, and a stack of number two pencils. Just one question: Why do the colleges think that our filling in circles will show our ability to do college work? A three year old can fill in the circles.

Sneaking into the Senior Lot

So, who says we have to park in our designated area.

The Juniors have long parked in the Senior lot because it is closer, more prestigious, and yes, it is forbidden. Never tell a Junior "no." He doesn't know the meaning, although he knows all of the prefixes and suffixes on the SAT vocabulary list.

HAWAIIAN DAY

For one day in late September, the senior class transformed South High into the South Pacific. Lessons reflected in sunglasses, hula skirts rustled, and colorfully dressed people wandered through the hallways as the day progressed. Trapped in our school routine, we captured a bit of vacation.

B.

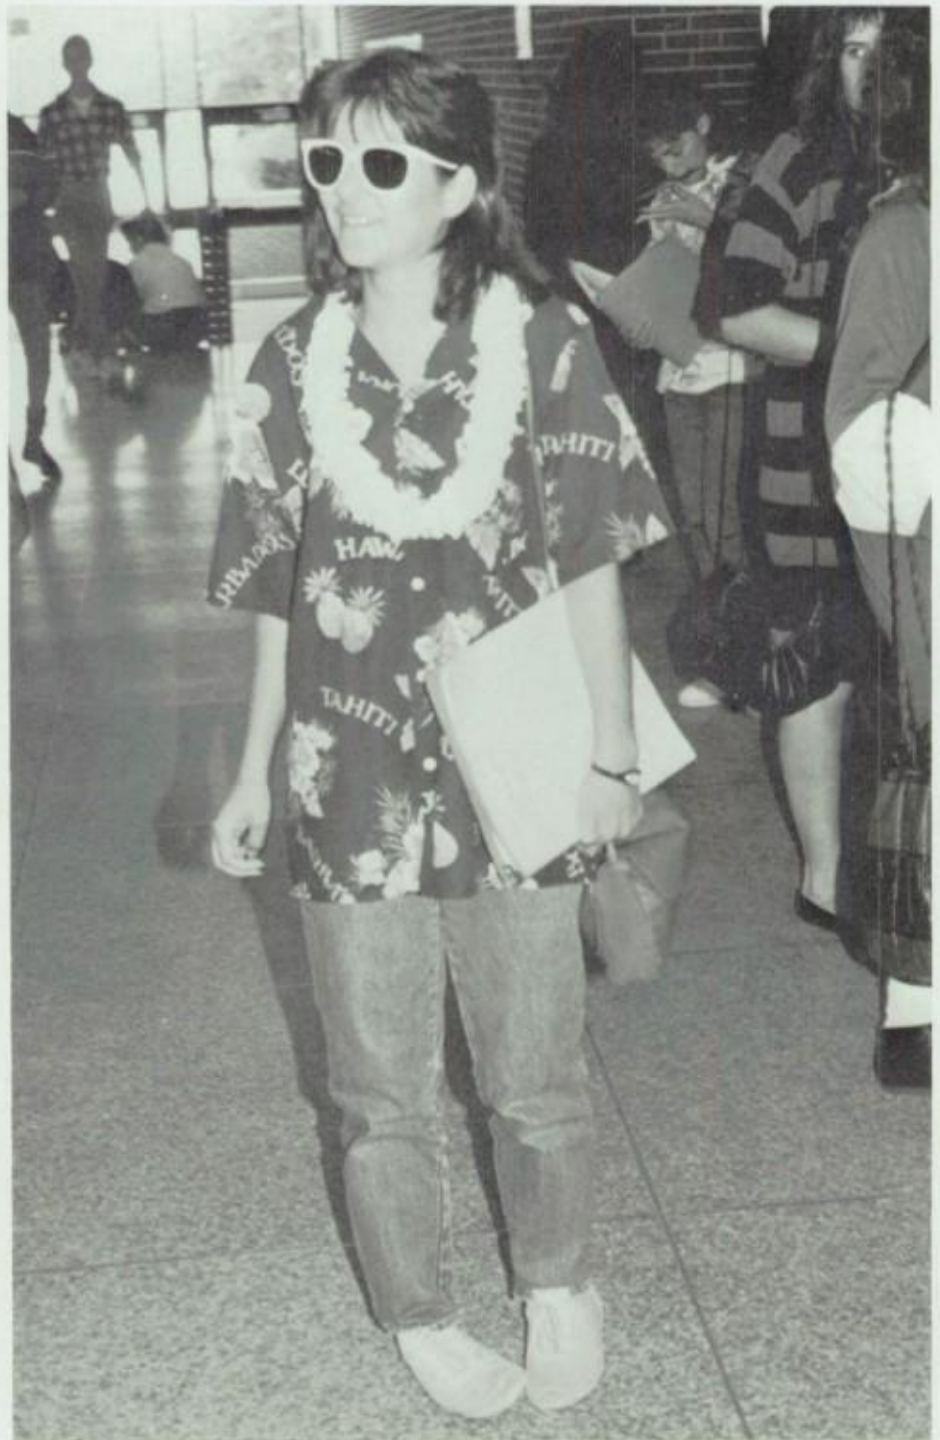

C.

D.

E.

A. These beach bums look like they just sailed in from Hawaii.

D. Allison Palmiotto and Tricia Michie are in the mood to hula.

B. Jay Neugarten, Dave Donis, Michele Cutone and Tara Cunningham would rather be on the beach than the senior bench.

E. Denise Burkel shields her eyes from South's sunny rays.

C. Jill Dublanyk watches as Chrissy Philips uses her head for something other than schoolwork.

CANDID FACES

Seniors display their own brand of spirit and determination in everything they do. Whether cramming for a science test or grabbing a quick sandwich at lunch, seniors remain poised and confident, secure in their position at school and looking towards a future that holds infinite possibilities.

A.

Dear Rich,
It's been
real fun in Rec. Thms.
this year (I could've
done w/o the quizzes,
though) If I see you next year (you at Brandeis, me at BU) I'll teach you how to dance!
I'm glad we've become friends (through Lina-had fun, huh? & Rec. Thms-Roswell could've shortened
his stories just a wee bit, doncha think?) and have a super summer.
Love,
Chris

B.

P.S. Yes, I was really studying in this picture -- REALLY!

Yo Rich, ? Can you remember How are ya? when we
that one time when we were fishing in Lake DeForest
and we reeled in the Titanic?
And then game warden's face when he saw we were 2100 tons over the limit?

Oh, wait. I guess that was someone else. Well, anyway thanks for helping me in social studies and being a pal. You've been a great audience.

Thanks again
and Good Luck (something I am sure you won't need) Mike

RICH (Ricky), ¿Que pasa, amigo? Well, its finally time to graduate. We've become really good friends over the past 3 years → remember Snyder, Caesar, and our oral projects.
 How about those great times in Spanish? Of course, we'll all remember the great wiffle-ball and basketball games, Mr.
 3-pointer. Going to Brandeis isn't separating our friendship, just putting it on hold for awhile. Good luck at Brandeis,
 and stop being so gullible!

Dear Steve,

Congratulations!

Love,
Mom, Dad, John, Marissa

To our dear Lisa Ann,

Watching you grow, and sharing your life has brought more joy, pride and special happiness than you'll ever know.

Congratulations on your graduation and we know you'll be successful in all your future years.

With all our love,

You're The Greatest!

All the best

We Love You

Mom, Dad,
Brian and Mary

Dear Laurel Ann,

Our love to you, and, as always, our wishes for a wonderful future. May your dreams come true — with perseverance and confidence, they will. You are our beautiful little girl, who is now grown and on her way to exciting years in college. Congratulations to you and the class of '87. We love you!

Mom, Dad, Carolyn, Michael, Stephen and Nonnie

Dear Melissa,

You're almost 18, going over the hill
Time to start paying your tuition bill
You grew up so fast, you used to be small,
In fact I remember when you used to crawl!
But now you are older and high school is done
You'll go now to college and really have fun
You'll talk on the phone, somethings stay the same
We love you, Melissa, you're our favorite little dame!
Congratulations!

Love,
Mom and Dad

Dear Amy and Michael,

We all love you dearly. We are so proud of both of you. Good luck in college and enjoy yourselves!

Love,
Grandma Jeanne, Grandma Gert and Grandpa Mickey

To Craig

Best Wishes

Mom and Dad

Dear Rachel,
Where is the little girl we carried?

Dear Kathleen,
Although yesterday was but a fleeting moment in time, the long road into tomorrow lies straight ahead. It is paved with hopes, dreams, success and happiness, all yours for the taking.

GO FOR IT.

Love Always,
Mom, Dad, Kevin and John

Dear Rich,

Even "In the beginning" we knew you wanted to be a Viking . . . May you continue to realize your dreams . . . You're a very special person and we love you very much!!

This says it all
Love: Eck, Eck and Bleah

We are proud of you, your integrity, concern for others, your zest for life. Trust in God! Believe in yourself! Dare to dream!

Love, Mom & Dad
Erika, Roberta & Elise

We're shared a lot of things. Good times and bad, some happy and others sad. But through it all, we've been together. Now you're about to start out on your own. May you find the happiness and success you seek. And always remember that we love you and you're never alone.

Love
Dad, Mom, Jean,
Tim & Joe

Dear Lisa,

As we sit here remembering the past 18 years — we realize how much you have given us. Your excitement for everything you do and the joy you get, as well as give, has always been a shining example for us all. Your accomplishments from your first step to becoming captain of your tennis team — and endless others in between — have always been with much enthusiasm. Your outlook on life has certainly been an inspiration for all who have watched you leave behind a dependent child and grow into a self-reliant adult.

We write this letter with an overwhelming feeling of love and pride — but more important — we write this letter because you have become a person we all truly like.

With much love,
Mom, Dad and Paul

You were adorable as a baby —

Dear Brian

And precocious as a little boy!

But when all is said and done we must confess —
We've loved you and enjoyed you most as a teenager!
You'll always fill our home with warmth and laughter
We love you — Mom and Dad

Sean M. Jacobs

Dear Sean,

Since birth you have been a "slugger" in striving for knowledge. Your positive attitude for understanding life, people and education continue to grow each year. You have always made us proud of you. Your commitment to excellence is second to none. Much success in life, college and your chosen career. We will always love you.

Mom and Dad

Dear Tricia and Tina:

You are both very special —
God blessed us twice!

We all love you very much, and know we'll always be proud of you.

Lots of Love,
Mom, Dad, Karen, Billy, Kevin

Dear Shari,

Yesterday, today and always, you have given us so much happiness.

We are very proud of you,
Congratulations!

Love,
Mom, Dad and Jason

Dear Susan,

Much success
and happiness
Love — Mom and Dad

Congratulations

Jolienne

May your future be full of love and happiness.

Mom, Dad and the family

For all the joy you're always giving
We hope you know all the joy life has to give. We love you
Mom, Dad, Mike, Greg, David and Meg

Mickey —
On Life's Path May

Dear Michael,

We are so proud of you
and your accomplishments.
We know you'll be a success in everything you do.

We love you.

Dad, Mom, and Alisa

To our darling Jodie-Girl,

Joy, happiness, pride, and most of all love.
These pleasures, and more, you have given us always.
You are so very special to us.

You make dreams come true and we know your future is filled with many, many more.

To you, our Jodie-Girl.

Melissa,
You're very special to us . . .

May all your dreams come true.
We love you,
Mom, Dad, Hillary

You bring joy where there would be sadness.
You bring light where there is darkness. You have made our dreams come true.

We have enjoyed watching you grow. Everyday was filled with new adventures and excitement. We are so proud of you and everything that you have accomplished.

We love you and always will. May all your dreams be fulfilled.

All our love,
Mom, Dad and Jodi

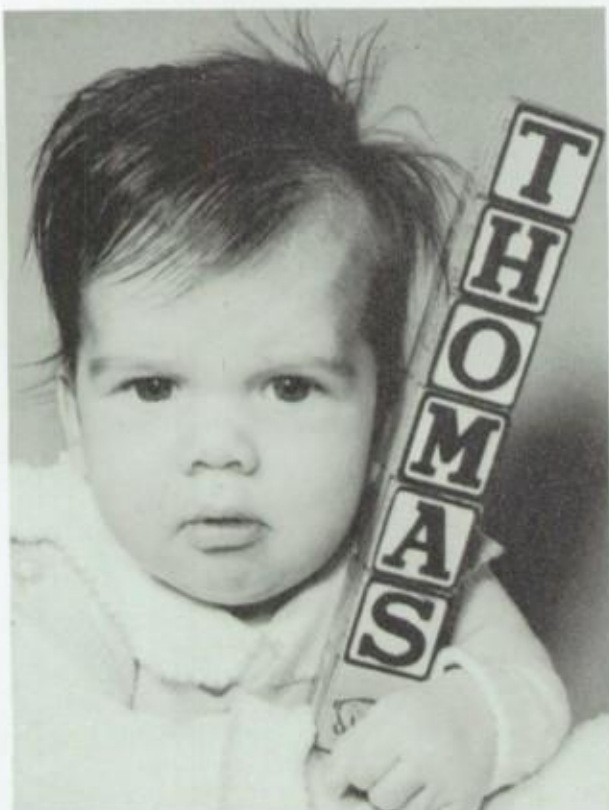

To Our Daughter Allison Anne
May God Grant You All the Good Things Life Has to Offer
We're Proud of You
Mommy, Daddy, Lisa, Michael, Anthony

For its effort, dedication, commitment to excellence in the production of responsible young men and women, the proud parents of William Derasmo wish to extend to Clarkstown South's entire staff, our gratitude.

Dear Tommy, Dave and Dan,

In 1969 we became parents of three babies,

Tom in January, Dave and Dan in November; what a year for us to remember.

Three babies quickly became boys, played with their toys and gave us many joys.

We cared for you and cherished you and showed you the way as best we knew how.

Boys, we're so proud of you now.

Our sons are now fine young men,

Daniel, David, Thomas, you show so much promise.

Time goes by too quickly when,

Our children are no longer babies but men.

Our home may soon feel a little empty, less noise,

But our hearts will always be full of our boys.

This year, we have become parents of men,

And in 1987, there is still a God in Heaven.

LOVE,

Mom and Dad

WE LOVE YOU

TO SUE,

Wishing you happiness and success in the future.
May you use all your gifts and talents wisely.

We are very proud of you and love you dearly.

Love,
MOM, DAD,
DAVID & PATCHES

Dear Allison,

How did you get to be the sensitive, intelligent, loving & mature young woman you are so fast? It was only yesterday your mother received her best birthday gift ever, you! We love you. We are proud of you.

Mom, Dad, Neil
Ruth, Nanny & Poppy

Dear Kicky,
You have always made us both so proud and happy. Your smile warms our hearts.

We wish you all the happiness and good fortune you deserve.

We love you.
Mommy and Daddy

Dear Matt,
Thanks for the memories,

Nancy, April and Sam

Dearest Mary Beth,

You will always be our little princess. May all your dreams come true. We wish you health, happiness, love and success.

With pride and love always
Mom and Barry

Wendy,
You were always a curious and inquisitive girl. Watching you grow and form into a beautiful young lady has made us very proud. Congratulations on achieving this milestone on your pathway through life
Love,
Jeff, Barbara, Warren, Larry and David

TO DANI, THE PRACTICE KID

Dani, thank you for giving us the opportunity to practice. When you were born and we didn't know the first thing about being parents, YOU, this little screaming, cuddly bundle of energy took us under your precious little wing and patiently began your parenting course- -a course that took us through many practice sessions — some lasting well into the night.

And when Daddy opened his practice, you were there to teach him what he couldn't learn in school, compassion, patience and the incredible value of love, hugs and kisses. Together, we practiced walking, talking, being friends, being girl scouts, being big sister and most importantly, our faith in God. And even though you're a tough act to follow for your brothers and sisters, your leadership showed them the way to be the great kids they are. (They're still practicing.)

And then there was junior varsity practice, varsity practice, football, basketball and the endless hours of dance practice where you developed the poise, the strength, the dedication, the determination. We watched you perform, watched you grow till we almost burst with pride. And remember when you practiced driving — remember the garage door? More practice. And now you're off to college, to practice adulthood, maybe someday to open a practice of your own- -well, Dani, it fits!

You know what they say. Practice makes Perfect. They were right and you are.

We love you. Dani
Mom and Dad

Dear Meredith (Miss Giggles),

Our little girl with the shining eyes and the beautiful smile who spreads happiness to all who know her.

May all your dreams become reality and may your world always be filled with sunshine.

With all our love,

With the effort and determination you've already shown, we know you'll achieve whatever you attempt! Keep your dreams alive! We wish you only happiness and success in all your future endeavors!

Love always
Mom, Dad, Alisa and Adam

Robin,

The tears, the laughter, and the joy our sisterhood is strong, and although we've had our share of fights you really can do no wrong.

Now I think of you going away and a tear rolls down my face, the friend that you have been to me is something you can never replace. If ever you're lonely or need a friend just know that I'll be there, to listen or to lend a hand you know that I'll always care. I wish today as you leave that all your dreams come true, and as I watch you walk away I send my love with you.

Alisa

JIM and DAL

We've stayed friends through it all! It seems like we've known each other forever... actually, WE HAVE! Remember... chicken fights in the pool — me, you, Mary, & Mike. Birthday parties — 8 years old — CHICKENS ALL OVER!! Rides on the minibike. Sixth Grade Dance — remember the necklace? — will, it rusted! But that's OK, it fell down the pool drain anyway!! Remember... breakfast EVERY morning at the luncheonette. Sweet sixteens. Summer talks at the gas station. Advice, Encouragement. !TENT! Shhh, I think I hear my father Dahlia... Uh, oh guys — looks like we're all busted!! What fun we've had!!!!... Chestnut Grove, Jr. High, High School — the years seem to fly by. There's so much left to tell — I guess FRIENDSHIP says it all. THANKS FOR THE LAUGHS — THANKS FOR THE GOOD TIMES

DEE & BRI

A.G.E.S. and G.A.M.E.S.

Since way back when,
You've been my friend.
Let's hope the good times
never end.
From cruising to crying,
you've always been here.
And when we're apart,
in my heart you'll be near.
Our friendship is so rare and true.
The best of times were spent
with you.
And we've had bad times
we thought would last.
Forgiving and forgetting,
has helped them pass.
No time, no space can ever
measure,
the friendship that will last forever.

How wonderful life is,
cause you're in the world.
All of My Love,
Eric

We have touched each other in ways we at first could not imagine, but since then we have lived. We have come to know each other like no one else knows us or ever will. Through time, a memory filled with love and happiness could never be lost.

I LOVE YOU

Dear Scott,

Knowing you has meant so much to me. We have shared so many special times together and made it through the tough ones. There will always be a place in my heart for you.

I LOVE YOU!

Dear Chrissy,

You are the most special person I've ever met. You saw something in me that no one else ever could. You help me whenever I need it. You give me hope when I can't find any myself. To me, you are the meaning of the word inspiration. I hope we always stay together because we have something very special. I hope we never lose each other.

I love you now and forever,
Lewis

Dear Lewis,

It's very hard for me to write on paper all that I feel for you. For the past three years, you've helped me through the roughest times in my life and shared with me the happiest times. Even when our relationship looked like it was falling apart, you stood by me, through everything. You are a very special person and you will always remain that way to me.

Remember all the good times we had and look forward to all the ones still to come.

I love you with all my heart!,
Chrissy

So guys, what are we doing tonight? I don't know, any ideas? No, me neither. What about him? No he doesn't know either. Let's go to town. Let's call the cops on ourselves. Let's go swimming. I don't have a pool. Don't worry about it, Tainsky — where are my sneakers? When lightning strikes — busted. Speak German — how about Spanish? What are you kidding, you could get 20 years for this. Beeswax, little tree, big tree. Turbo — don't play next to henry. Nice car. That goes for all of us. I'm going as fast as I can. Ever been passed by a Porsche on a sharp turn? Henry got passed by a bus uphill. Ha . . . Ha . . . OK I'll drive. When? What stop sign. — Burda — never again., Ken: Bam, "I thought it was powdered snow." I want some Busch — me too. Behind the bank. Laurel Plains, Dead end airport. Paramus: Kenny just beat up the Grimace. We took the wrong exit, Go backwards quick! Seaside, bus stop, nothing but a spoke. Hey dude, got a dollar, I'll give you a . . . I bet I can hit him with my gum, Hey man. What are you doing with that can of spray paint? Oh, just taking some pictures. Later that day . . . they'll never look in my trunk, yea right, give Larry the run-around, who has my keys?, not me, I don't know! Dude — smash. Are we late? No we're on Mihir time. Moo Moo Cow Jr. Moonshoes. Delayed reaction Don't go changing — I LOVE YOU JUST THE WAY YOU ARE!!! . . . TO REVELATION . . .

THESE ARE THE DAYS TO HOLD ON TO 'CAUSE WE WONT' ALTHOUGH WE'LL WANT TO

So, what do you want to do tonight?" "I don't know, what do you want to do?"

LOCKERHEAD — "How did you know my head was stuck?" REDBAG

DANNY'S PARTIES — "Of course there's a party this weekend."

NEW YEAR'S EVE — "I can't stand you but we'll pick you up in 5 minutes." Of course the dead end solved the fight.

THE JR. BALL & SELLING THE FLOWERS THE NEXT DAY I GOT ABSOLUTELY NO SLEEP

SKIING & THE BUS RIDE THERE AND BACK "how many people can fit in the bathroom? More importantly how many times are we gonna go in there?"

CUPCAKES — "Jill, we had a dozen, you ate them all?"

10 INCHES!!!! WATER BALLOONS!

"Oh, I thought you were mad at me too."

CHEMISTRY — "How many do you think Mr. McGuire had? No, I'd say 3. But maybe it's something else, he's got a lot of energy." "I can't believe he just spilt water all over the floor!" "only 3 more minutes until the bell rings in between lab and class, 2, 1, DING let's go! Are we the only ones that leave or what? By the way, I thought only day 1 was party day? Well, I guess there goes that one."

FRIDAY NIGHTS!!!!

"Go ahead prove me wrong."

No Jacky, I can't sleep over, it's too hot out"

SOFTBALL ON SUNDAY THEN SWIMMING AT JACKY'S or should I just call you squidgette? "Wait Jacky, who came after John? But you forgot Bernie. Don't forget Danny, and what about Ricky? That's messed up, it's a good thing you two didn't go out."

By the way, just to clear things up, it was two wopper juniors!

How about that car ride to the city "We don't always talk like this. Well, we're from New York. That's our excuse" "No, I can't stay here, I'm scared." "O.K., We'll go to the golf course; I was there the other night." "On the golf course?" "Yeah there was only one problem, I got sand in my hair." But come on, let's all admit it, we always go to the city to buy an ice.

"Come on, everybody does it, you won't be in the 'A' Crowd."

"Don't say anything but you know what . . . "

Then there was always that 10-minute movie "Nightmare on Elm Street II." "What ever did happen in that movie?"

Then there was the first night I met Ricky "Where did your mother pick us up last night?"

GREAT ADVENTURE — "Ya know how many rat hairs have been found in hot-dogs?"

THE SHORE & JILL'S LITTLE PROBLEM!

SELLING RAFFLES FOR Y.C.S. — Y.C.S.? No, we won't get into that!"

"Jacky — Where are you working now?"

"Jillbur, meet me halfway." "I'm out the door."

"What do you mean he's married? DANNY?! We have to talk."

"A Bogga-bogga-bogga uh oh uh"

"What time does it say first period starts on that ditto? Oh- - -I didn't give it to her. I can't believe you did that to me!"

"Burger King — you guys work at Burger King?"

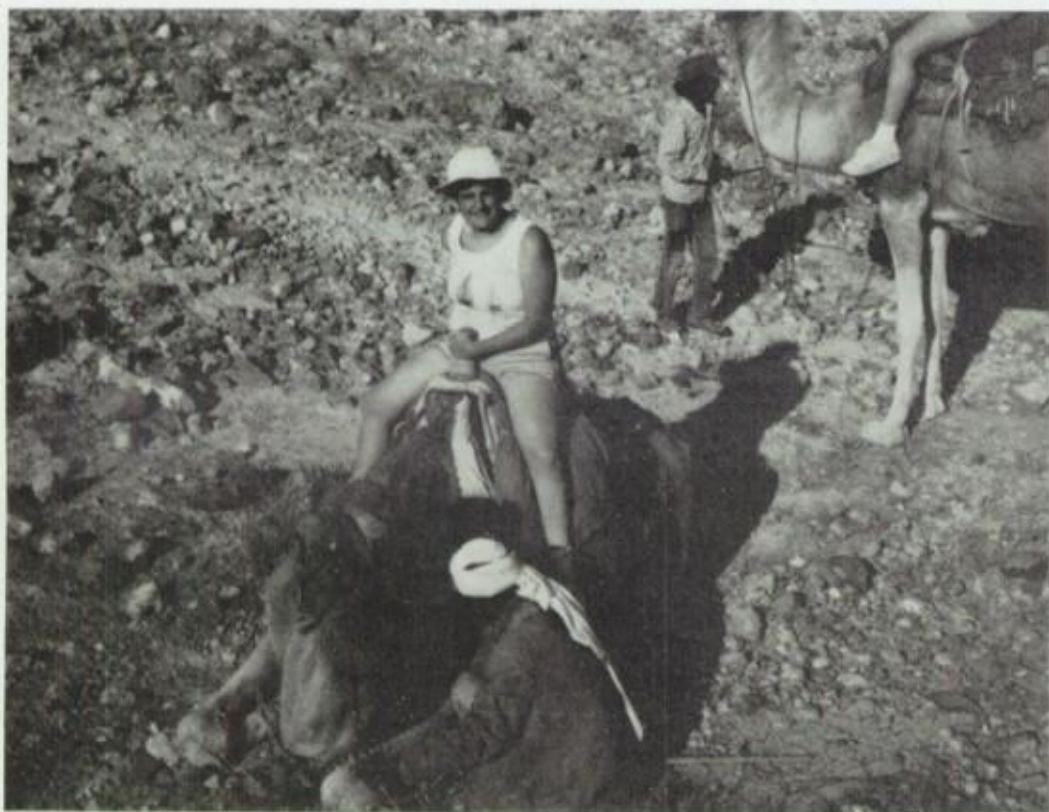

Vanilla shake fight — Jill gets fired that night.

And then of course there was Jamaica & the souvenirs that were brought back.

And there were those nights just sitting in "the room" "Anne, my legs, I can't feel my legs!" "Well Jill, whenever your late to class, you can always say you got your head stuck in your locker." Really though I did think we would have to call the fire department. But you came around and showed us that ears are bendable. Extended homeroom? Who said it was extended? And Then theres FOYT!

Allison — Well what can I say? We've got a friendship that has highs and lows in our relationship we've been able to stay the best of friends. Getting through those tough times. Just seemed to strengthen our friendship. You know that I'll always be there for you just as I know that you'll always be there for me. Remember I'm always only a phone call away. I truly believe that we possess a friendship that will last our whole lives. After all, who else can you tell All your problems, fears and hopes to. "If this world makes you crazy and you've taken all you can, you can call me up cause you know I'll be there"

Always remember: Driving licenses, long phone calls, sibling alerts, Israel, the trips to the mall, the laughter, etc. "through good times and bad times, I'll be on your side for evermore of that you can be sure!

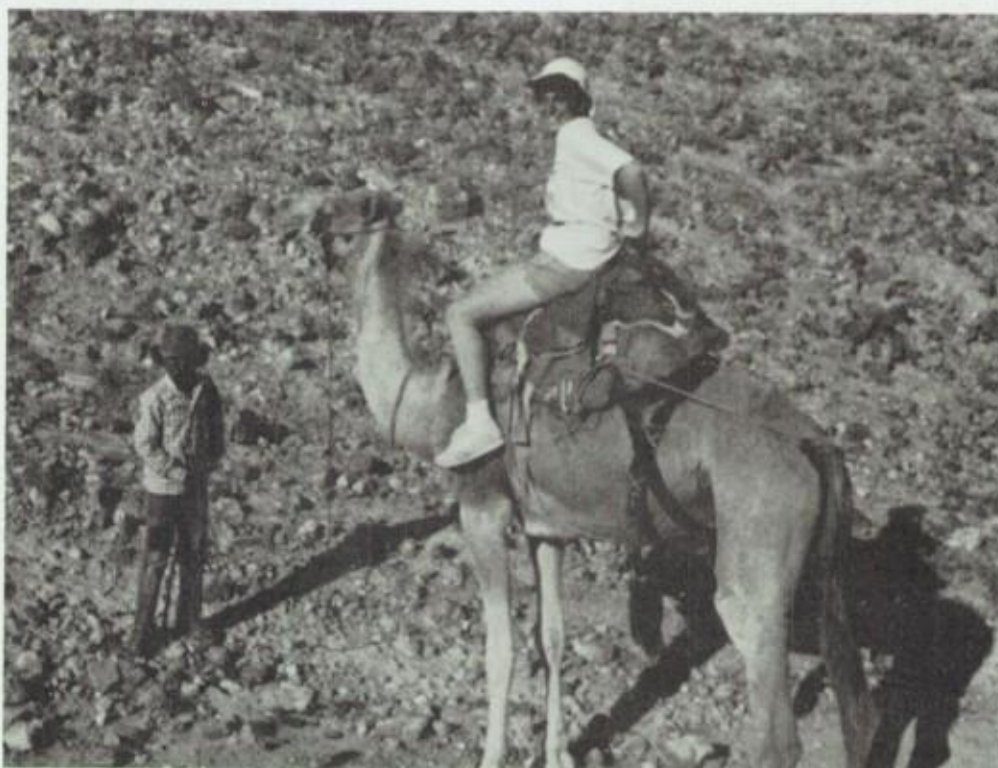

Love ya

Beth —

I know that these past few months we have grown apart and now we are ready to go in different directions. You have truly been a special friend to me — Caring and understanding. I will always hold for you a place in my heart and my mind. You are always welcome in my home (wherever that may be) and I'll always be only a phone call away (even if you have to use the international operator — remember).

I'm really going to miss you a lot and thinking about it makes me want to cry. I Love you and hope you always live in peace and happiness.

Dear Laura, (Jaffers)

I've laughed, you've laughed, you've cried & I've cried but the laughter was that much more fun & the tears that much more bearable because we went through it together. You're always there with a shoulder to cry on and an ear for listening. You truly define the term "best friend" and because you are truly the best friend in the world, I'm so lucky that of all the people in this world, the friend that you are — is mine!!!

I love ya!!

Dear Mrs. Leventer,

Deadline? What Deadline??? Help! Help!!! The deadline is only an hour away and we don't know what to write! What do you mean the layout paper is not measured correctly? Didn't you say to type everything "10 and 75"?

Well we pulled pulled off another year of fine journalism. Thank you for being there during our trials and tribulations. You devoted all your time month after month, to help us put out the best paper. Thank you for letting us use your house, for getting a real office and most of all for being a friend. We all hope you enjoyed working on the paper as much as we did. We'll never forget all the things you've done for us.

Dear Allison,

Heartthrobs: FJM, LM, JR, MJ, OL, CB, FJ, etc . . .

The saga continues . . .

GETTING back to the real world —

AHHHHHHHH! Deadlines! Deadlines! What Deadlines?

Apply or not to Apply? I regret my decision. Movie?

or Burger King? Next Weekend, Next Weekend . . .

I think I'm going to die. I can't take it anymore.

THE SAGA

G, Allison, and Reji in a 3 legged race., "Can you please get this in before the deadline", "you better get this in before the deadline", Ping pong, bicycles, Plastic Surgery, The perfect Mom, Mabelle, 9:30 AM Oh! No! I over slept again, I, A.P Bio, Hemi, "I'M going to get a job" — Sure that what they all say, Pulitzer, the prize. Gaberil, Geldof, Theres so much to do . . . so much. I'm 300 pages behind on my reading, I have 6 papers to due tomorrow,

2:00 A.M — (still up) — you doing there work

— and me doing his

"Dont worry about it, no matter what happens everything will work ou in the end — I think"

Let me know if you skip town and win the prize. — Then Ill meet you at the Russian Tea Room and we will look back at this and laugh.

So many dreams so many hopes

So many roads to travel

We'll be alright —

From one crazy Editor to another thanks for being one of the dearest friends I ever had In my memories you'll always be a special friend. I'll never foreget everything you've done for me.

"Time's moving too fast for us. Say goodbye, But dont turn around for you might see me cry."

Love always,

Reji

P.S. (We survived!)

Reji,

When I read your Ad it made me feel like crying. What else can I add? You have been one of the best friends I ever had. Always believe in what a special person you are. You are caring, compassionate, loving and disciplined. I think you will reach any height you want to climb to.

Always rmemeber our friendship. I believe it will continue long after high school. Where ever our lives may take us I will always be just a phone call away.

Thank you for caring so much and working so hard and most importantly for being such a wonderful friend because that is more important than school, yearbook, or newspaper will ever be.

— Allison

REFLECTIONS OF A SENIOR

Life is so complex ... it's always changing ...
 When I was a little girl ...
 I used to sleep peacefully and untroubled in my bed ...
 My mother, father, and brother were my secure world ...
 Then came school and life's responsibilities began to set in ...
 In a small way ...
 Get up, get dressed, kiss from Mom and away for the day ...
 Birthdays, Halloween, and Holidays were fun ...
 All still part of my secure world as a little girl ...
 First, Third, Fifth, Seventh grades ...
 Where did they go?
 Time races by and it's time for Eighth grade ...
 New teachers. New friends ... Discover boys are fun ...
 D in History ... C in Math ...
 Can't seem to get my grades on the right path ...
 Too many things to do ...
 Never enough time ...
 Feeling frustrated a lot of the time ...
 Life is so complex ... it's always changing ...
 My seventeenth year ... I'm a senior now ...
 Some happy times ...
 Junior and Senior balls ... A boyfriend ...
 A beautiful white Camaro ... my first car ...
 A loving Mom ... Haagen-Dazs ice cream ...
 A "nudge" for a brother ... but I love him.
 Sunshine brightening each of my days ...
 New friends who were unknown last year ...
 Some sad times ...
 Visiting colleges ... Got to pick one ...
 Tug-of-war with my emotions ...
 Don't want to leave my high school friends ...
 Don't want to leave home ... go off to some strange town ...
 Life is so complex ... it's always changing ...
 At times I'm happy and full of laughter ...
 At times I'm sad and full of tears ...
 Parents who have been there say it's part of growing up ...
 I know I'm not a little girl anymore ... but I'm scared ...
 Life is so complex ... it's always changing ...
 So I stand on the threshold of a beautiful new experience ...
 College ...
 If I give it a chance ...
 I know I'll make it ... with confidence ... dignity ... and grace ...
 Because I know I am loved ... while in High School and always ...
 Life is so complex ... but you know what? It's changing for the better ...
 And I'm really going to enjoy College!
 I think ...

Laura,
 You brought sunshine into our lives the day
 you were born.
 Through the years we've watched you grow
 to be a beautiful young lady.
 Stay as sweet as you are and your life will be filled with happiness.
 We are so proud of you.

All our love,
 Mom, Stan, Douglas & Sunshine

We are proud of you.
We will miss being bossed around. Most of all we will miss you.
You are the best sister we could ask for.

Love,
Cathy & Jamie

My special friend
Always there when I need her
Ready to have fun all the time
Yet always willing to lend an ear when I am troubled.

Mary —

Thank you for being there when I needed you most

Love always,
Chrissy

Some people will remain,
in our hearts forever.
They are the ones,
Whom I will always treasure.
These people will hold
a section of my heart,
So I can remember them
long after we part.
You, my best friend
have the biggest piece of all.
For when I am alone,
It is you who I call.
A certain closeness
exists between you and me.
Such a happy feeling,
a calm serenity.
You've shown me
the true meaning of a friend.
And you I shall remember,
long after high school ends.

FROM THE HOME OFFICE IN MILWAUKEE:

THE TOP TEN THINGS WE'LL MISS ABOUT CLARKSTOWN SOUTH:

10. The improved learning and environment
9. The top notch security guards
8. Double sessions & thirteen mile runs
7. The 500,000 volume library complete with Mr. Pitkin
6. The use of the lobby periods 4, 5, 6
5. The "G.O. Cart"
4. Our improving egress times
3. No more snow days
2. We won't be together anymore

. . . and the NUMBER ONE reason why we'll miss Clarkstown South . . .

1. The variety of principals we've encountered in our 4 years.

Good Luck to all our friends — and thanks . . . WE'RE OUTTA HERE!!!

The world sometimes is a lonely place
We often need to see a friendly face
A face to count on when things go wrong.
A shoulder to cry our
tears upon.
Yet being a friend is not easy to do
It often means listening You have listened while I cried
all my tears.
Thanks to these things I can see
A friend to me you'll always be!
— Rachel Kraushaar

Rach —

Can we count the memories? I think that we have more memories than anyone can count to, even you! We always seem to make it through our rough times, coming out stronger.
That must mean that we have a real special relationship — and even God knows we do! I just want to thank you for everything you always did for me — the lessons of life you taught me and just all the love you shared with me. I'll always love you — forever!

Dear Danine,

You added to our lives in a very special way, You had the best achievements that you could display, You kept your chin up when in distress, Let's face it, Danine you're the best.

As Mom and Dad we tried our best,
Now you Danine, must do the rest.
So take your road and strive,
To make your dreams come alive.

Love,

Mom, Dad, Toni-Ann and Jo-Ann

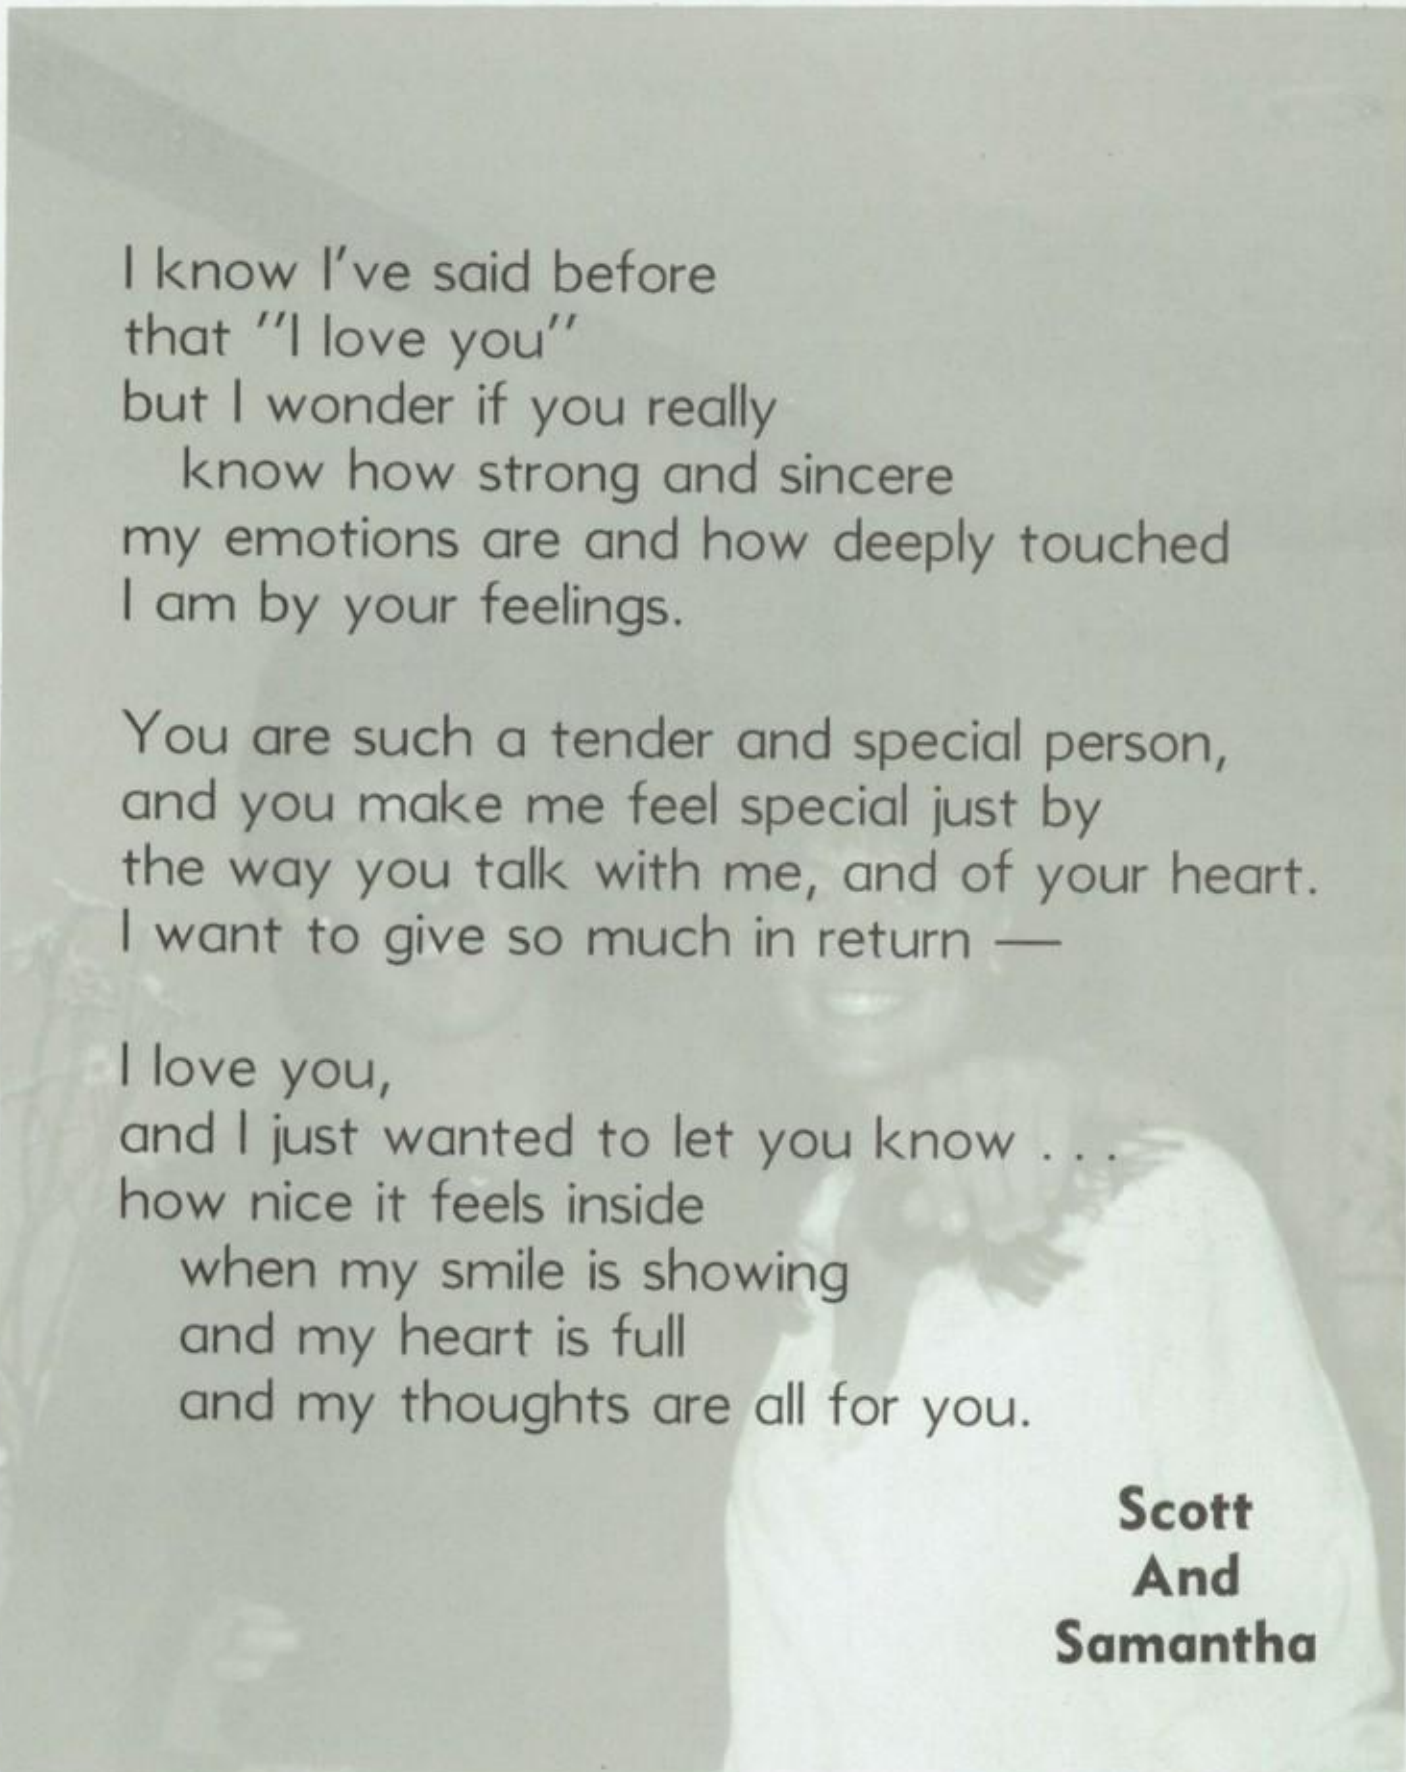

Congratulations to the Class of 1987.

Dear Sophia,
With love and pride.
Mom and Dad

I know I've said before that "I love you"
but I wonder if you really know how strong and sincere my emotions are and how deeply touched
I am by your feelings.

You are such a tender and special person, and you make me feel special just by the way you talk with me, and of your heart.
I want to give so much in return —

I love you,
and I just wanted to let you know . . .
how nice it feels inside
when my smile is showing and my heart is full
and my thoughts are all for you.

Our friendship, growing from the start
 Has strengthened as time has past
 The bond between us that we formed
 I know will always last.
 Our friendship is a special love
 The kind that leaves us free
 Our friendship is a mutual trust
 That means so much to me.
 Although we have our separate lives
 And go our separate ways
 Our friendship remains a continuing joy
 That brightens many days
 We've rarely expressed our feelings
 That our friendship that is true
 Yet I have to say I'm proud
 To have friends like you.

Dearest Lisa,

The time we spent together has meant a lot to me. It's felt like a lifetime with you. I know in the future we will always have each other.

The love we have is true because it comes from the heart, yours and mine, words spoken from the heart, especially mine, are always sincere. You and I know I mean it when I say: I love you, Lisa.

I will do anything, give up anything for your love, and happiness. I have to because you're my BABYDOLL.

With all my love,

Excuse me girls, See, I’ve got rhinestones on my fingernails. Whata day, let’s not do it again. James Dean & Carole Lombard, ooo-Billy. Boy. Idiot. Cindy “can’t be a friend” playing badminton — ARGH!!! — Lari, undefeated. Oh, what a sap. The ehum house wives. Let’s do the TIME WARP again — The Rocky Horror Gang. We won!! We build excitement — PONTIAC — A CAR? — A FIREBIRD?? Take a glass of memories. Steve Winwood. Who — da — what — da — hell — was — dat? You lood like — Ron Wood? — The only people to show up. I sail yeah, yeah-yeah yeah! Mony, Mony. Are we late — Cowel, Mang! Draw my nose with just shadows. Buddies for 9 years, THE PAST . . . THE PRESENT . . . ALL THESE MEMORIES . . . THE FUTURE . . . ALL THESE PLANS . . . I LOVE YOU, ALL OF US.

Strike a pose and smile for the camera! The unforgettable faces that flood our hallways are unique, individual. The flash of the camera frames the moment, but beyond the two dimensional page travels the determined graduate. He leaves his pose and glamorous, entertaining position to venture forward — into a world of infinite possibilities.
